Roads We Take

The roads we take through Midlothian High begin when we enter the tenth grade. The long road through high school first becomes winding as a sophomore faces new, harder classes and teachers with lots of homework plans. But the good always comes with the bad—Sophomores are able to attend their first homecoming game, parade, and dance. The long and winding road continues its steady pace through the junior year. Class rings, PSAT's, and prom preparations accent an eleventh grader's life. Juniors have the options of taking many different roads. They may enter the road to sports or drama or just the road to graduation. Seniors are the ones who are constantly reflecting on their long and winding road through Midlothian. Memories of term papers, lost library books, and Mr. Crane's math tests linger in many seniors' minds. They are forever visiting Mrs. Voight, trying to decipher college applications and trying to decide where to apply. Class Day is a wonderful climax to the end of the long and winding road. After graduation the long and winding road forks, and we must choose our individual paths.

THE LONG AND WINDING ROAD
(Lennon & McCartney)

THE LONG AND WINDING ROAD THAT LEADS TO YOUR DOOR
WILL NEVER DISAPPEAR, I'VE SEEN THAT ROAD BEFORE,
IT ALWAYS LEADS ME HERE,
LEAD ME TO YOUR DOOR.
THE WILD AND WINDY NIGHT THAT THE RAIN WASHED AWAY
HAS LEFT A POOL OF TEARS CRYING FOR THE DAY,
WHY LEAVE ME STANDING HERE,
LET ME KNOW THE WAY.

MANY TIMES I'VE BEEN ALONE AND MANY TIMES I'VE CRIED, ANYWAY YOU'LL NEVER KNOW THE MANY WAYS I'VE TRIED
BUT STILL THEY LEAD ME BACK TO THE LONG WINDING ROAD,
YOU LEFT ME STANDING HERE, A LONG LONG TIME AGO,
DON'T LEAVE ME WAITING HERE,
LEAD ME TO YOUR DOOR.

BUT STILL THEY LEAD ME BACK TO THE LONG WINDING ROAD,
YOU LEFT ME STANDING HERE, A LONG LONG TIME AGO,
DON'T KEEP ME WAITING HERE,
LEAD ME TO YOUR DOOR.*

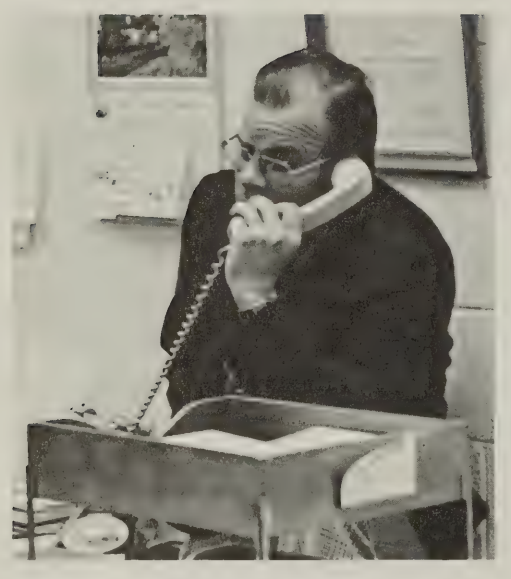
ACADEMICS

Leading Us On Our Way . . .

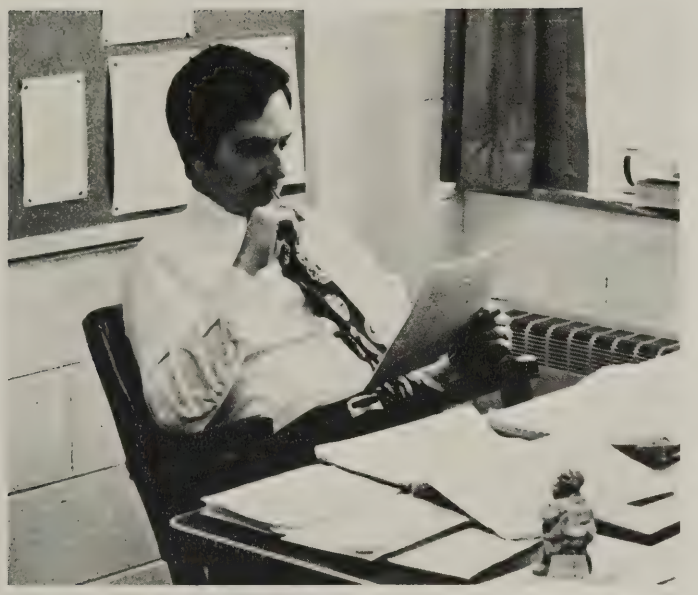
Mr. Poates works diligently to get the work done.



Mr. Poates talks to a concerned parent.

Even though there is much tedious work and responsibility involved, our administrators always find time to relate to the students. We are pleased to have a new assistant principal this year, Mr. Carter. With their occasional chats, friendly greetings, and warm smiles, the communication between the administrators and student body is always present.

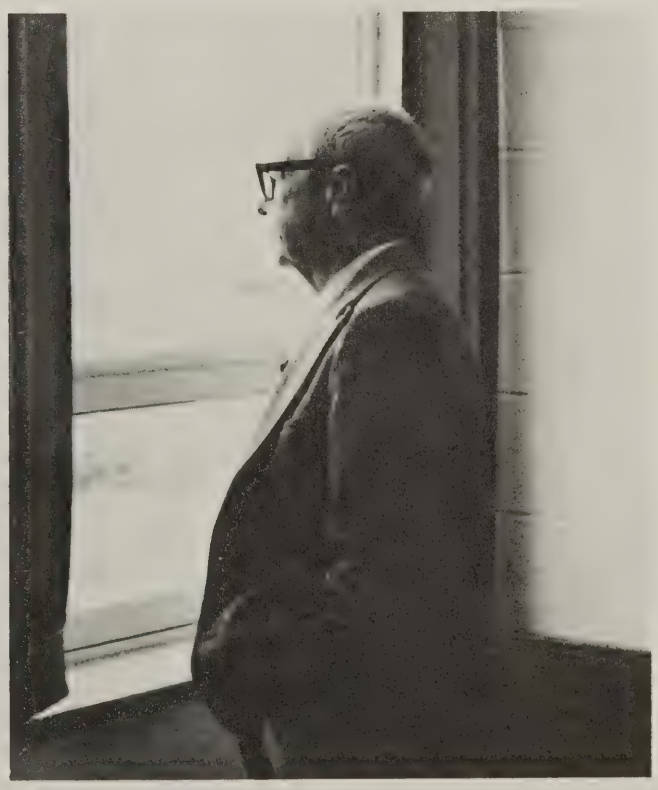
Mr. Poates rests after one of those days!



Mr. Carter works out a problem.

Mr. Rowlett gives a friendly smile to passers-by.

It's been a long day for Mr. Carter.

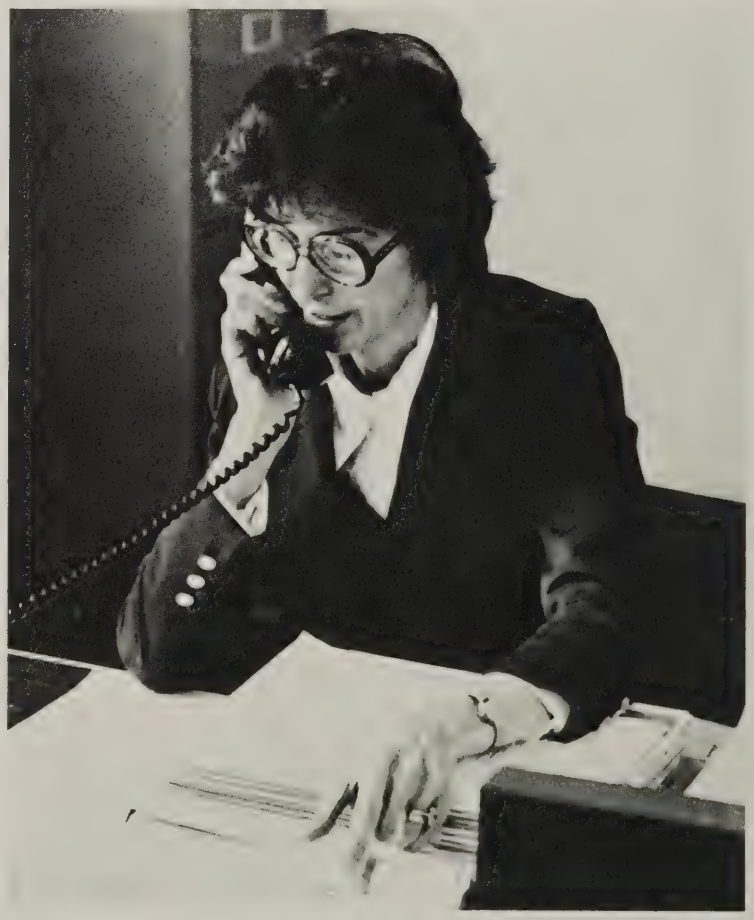


Mr. Rowlett checks out the pharmacy.

Mrs. Jones, the sophomore counselor, keeps another sophomore headed in the right direction.

Our guidance counselors are a necessity to most Midlo students. The counselors get all the complaints with problem schedules which they usually handle very well. A senior can really appreciate the guidance department when it comes to applying to colleges. The guidance department fills out college transcripts for applications and ends up writing many recommendations, which they hope will prove helpful to the student in getting accepted to the college of their choice.

Mrs. Hughes, the DE counselor, experiences a moment of deep contemplation.



Mrs. Goodwin, the junior counselor, gives her assistance to a needy recipient.

Guidance Department

Mrs. Barnes, the new guidance secretary, keeps busy.

Mrs. Voight, the senior counselor, discusses another college application.

Besides being a counselor, Mrs. Jones is also the sponsor of SODA.

Office

The office personnel, along with their student aides, handle all the paperwork of Midlothian. Mrs. Frady, the bookkeeper, keeps all the club's accounts in order. Mrs. Lavender, the secretary, works hard every morning writing all the notes for student's absences! The aides usually help out with anything else that needs to be done—filing, typing, xeroxing. Working together, they all keep matters running smoothly.

Julia Kellum works hard in the office.

Mrs. Frady keeps busy with paperwork.

Charles Carter spends his time sorting papers.

Debbie Burgett laughs at a ridiculous excuse.

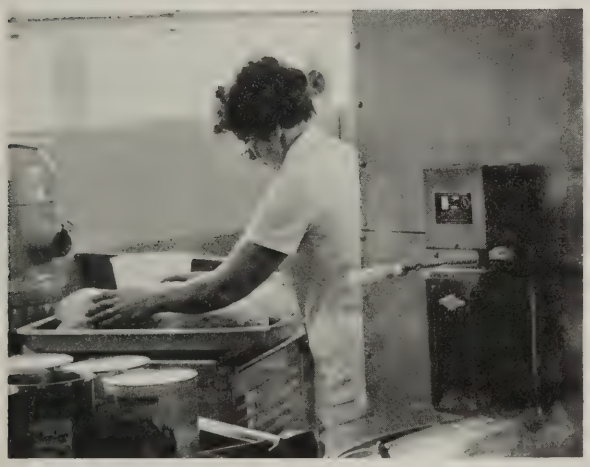
Mrs. Lavender keeps her eyes peeled!

Cafeteria Staff

Head manager, Billie Vernon, finds the turkey difficult to manage.

Annie Burford kneads bread for the rolls.

Preparing turkeys is a major task for the staff workers.



Chicken is a specialty dinner everyone looks forward to at Midlo's cafeteria.

The fast-line lunches at Midlo go over well with the students.

The cafeteria staff has done a nice job this year of providing the students with a variety of lunches. They serve a main meal in one line and then offer a variety of sandwiches in the quick-service line—a selection for finicky appetites. A new addition in lunches this year is the small cartons of orange juice, which, usually frozen, have to be eaten with a spoon. The milkshakes, which were added last year, still remain a popular drink for Midlo students during lunch.

Mrs. Morris unpacks the french fries for the day's lunch.

Estelle Walton prepares that cake that everyone enjoys!

English Department

Carol Schmidt—English 10; Wheaton College, B.A.; U.Va., M.Ed.; School of Art Institute of Chicago.

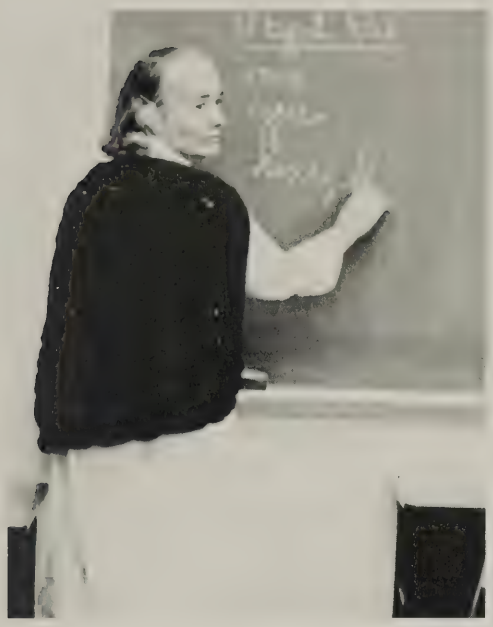
Mary I. Beckner—English 12; Longwood College, Univ. of Richmond; Univ. of London; V.C.U., B.A., M.A.

Jeanne M. Hildebrand—English 12, English 12 A.P., Creative Writing; Winthrop College, Univ. of S.C., B.A., M.A. & Ed.; Literary Magazine Sponsor.

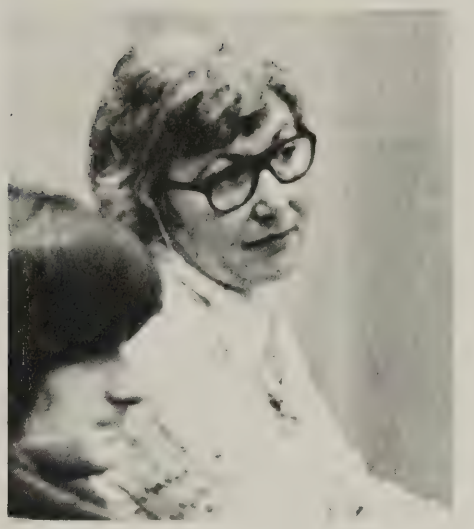
Anna M. Bowman—English 11; Madison College—B.A.

Nancy P. Price—English 11; Emory and Henry College; U.Va.; V.C.U., B.A.; Varsity Cheerleader Sponsor.

Marjory C. Willis—English 11, Basic Communications, Journalism; Queens College, B.A.; Newspaper Sponsor.



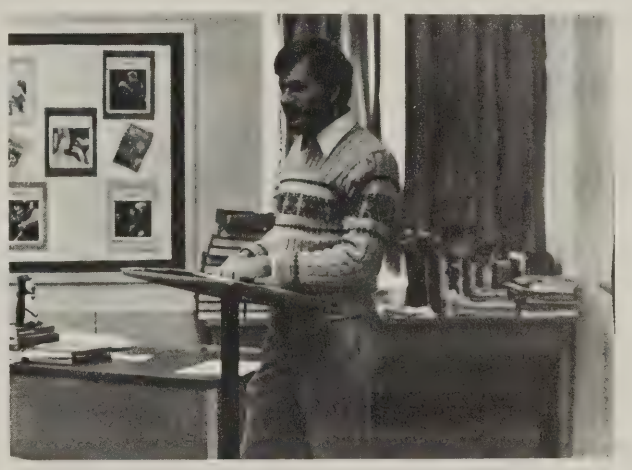
Lily J. Bilmond—English 10; Mary Washington College, B.S.; Sophomore Class Co-sponsor.



Jane S. McCalla—English 10,11; Univ. of Maryland, Univ. of Washington, Univ. of Nevada, B.A.

Camille A. Flick—English 9,11; College of St. Rose; Syracuse Univ.; V.C.U., B.A.

Literature, grammar, and writing major papers are the basic concerns of the English Department. Beowulf, MacBeth, and Chaucer's Canterbury Tales are favorite works taught to seniors. Juniors study The Scarlet Letter and sophomores, Julius Caesar. All students are drilled endlessly on spelling rules and writing skills. The department works hard to prepare and teach each student the correct way of the English language.



James D. Beckner—English 12; V.P.I., B.A., M.A.

Yvonne G. Bailey—English 11,12; Delta State Univ., B.S., M.Ed.; SCA Sponsor.

Phyllis L. Miles—English 10,11; East Carolina University, B.S.; Yearbook Sponsor.

William G. Gray—English 10,12; Randolph-Macon College, B.A.

Math Department

Susan Raynes—Consumer Math, Algebra I, Geometry; U.Va., M.Ed.; Madison College, B.S.

Murphy M. Richardson—Geometry, Alg. II—Trig.; St. Andrews; Univ. of Richmond; U.Va., B.A.

Mary N. Blanton—Math 9, Alg. I—Part 2, Geometry, Univ. of Richmond, B.A.

The math program at Midlothian allows a student to excel to his capabilities in math because of the advanced levels of math analysis and calculus. For those who wish for only a minimum knowledge of mathematics, consumer math is the answer. Each individual is able to meet his own needs due to the varied levels taught.

Richard H. Crane—Math Analysis, Calculus; Hampden-Sydney College, Case Western Reserve, U.Va.; B.S., M.Ed.; Tennis Team Coach.

Betty E. Ballard—Advanced Algebra II—Trig., Geometry, Math Analysis, Longwood College, B.S.; M.Ed.; Sophomore Class Sponsor.

Donna H. Rosser—Geometry, Alg. II—Trig., Alg. II; Univ. of Richmond, B.A.; M.Ed. Madison College, Columbia Univ., Jr. Class.

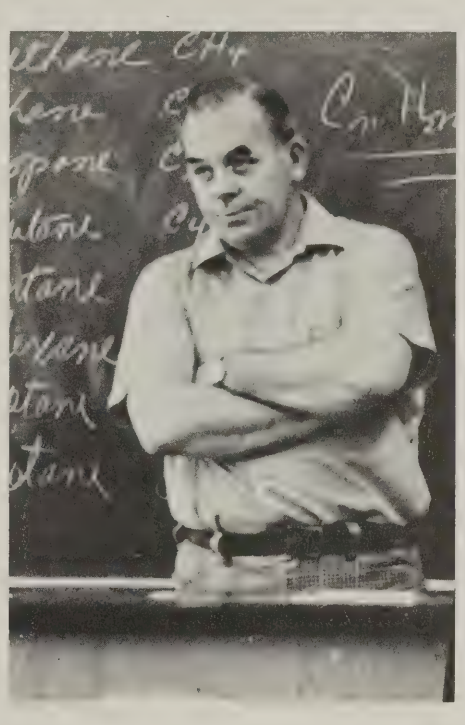
Peter A. Fearnley—Alg. I—Part 2, Algebra II; Randolph-Macon College, B.A.

Science Department

The Science Department enables students to explore the scientific world. The courses offered are biology, chemistry, and physics. Their main objective is to teach students to "see for themselves" Questions such as how and why are answered as well as observation and the appreciation of concepts and techniques used in the scientific field.

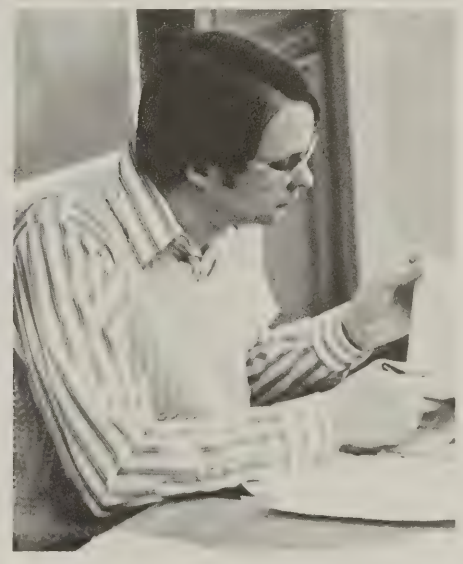
Olethia M. Winfield—Biology; Va. Union Univ.—B.S., Va. State College, M.S.; Science Club Sponsor.

Martha W. Parker—Biology; Longwood College, B.S.; Madison College, M.S. Ed.; Pep Club Sponsor.

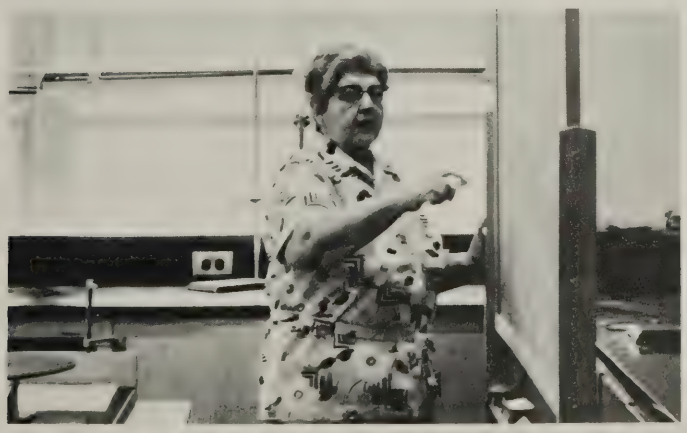


Donald H. Currie—General Chemistry, Chem. Study, Driver Education; Western Carolina Univ.; V.C.U.; U.VA.; Univ. of Richmond, V.P.I., B.A.

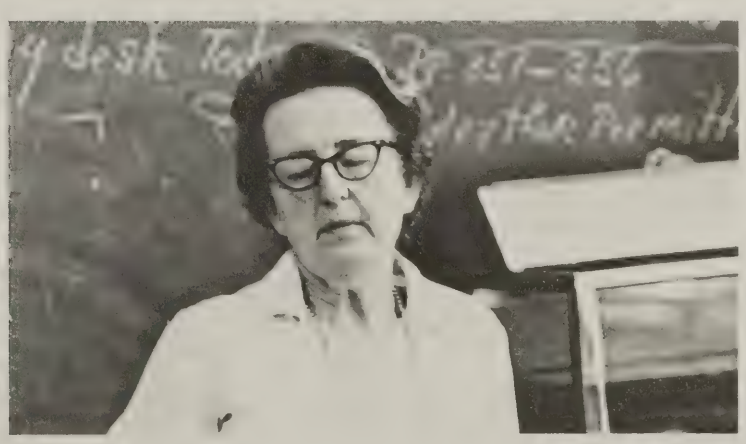
Joyce L. Smith—Biology; Mary Washington College, B.S.; William and Mary College, M.Ed.; Graduate Work—M.C.V., U.VA.; Univ. of London; Science Dept. Chairman



Gregory P. Hulcher—General Chemistry, Chem. Study; V.P.I., B.S.: Virginia State College, M.Ed.; V.C.U.; Univ. of Virginia; Varsity Basketball Coach



Mary A. Martin—Physics; Longwood College, B.S., Radford College, U.VA., U.N.C., V.P.I.



Virginia A. Justis—Biology; Longwood College, B.S.; Univ. of Va.; Univ. of Richmond; Madison College, V.C.U.; Sponsor of National Honor Society.

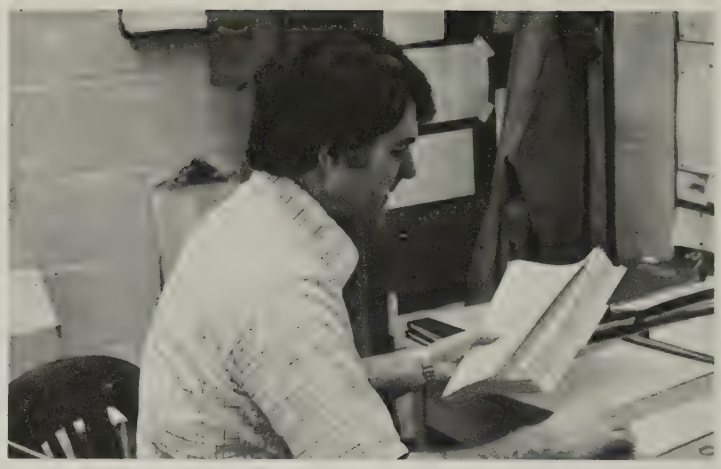
Hilda C. Flippen—Spanish III, IV, V; William and Mary, B.A.; U.Va.-M.Ed.; Junior Class Sponsor.

Any student may satisfy his desire for a foreign language with the variety of languages offered at Midlothian—Latin, French, Spanish, and German. Higher levels including fourth and fifth year are offered for the student who wishes a complete and in-depth knowledge of the language, as well as literature and customs of the particular country.

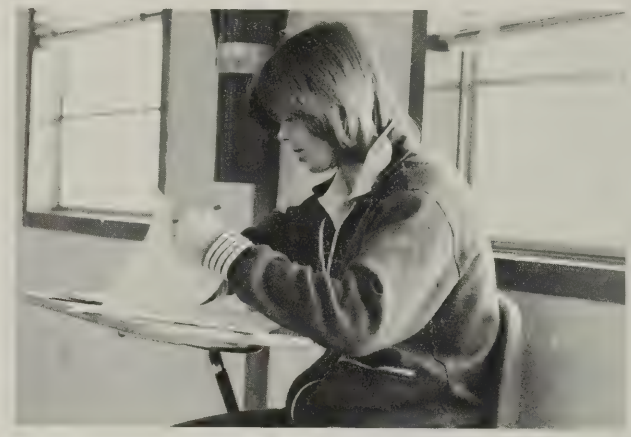
P.E. Department and Library Staff

Ron Lester—P.E., Athletic Director; Florida State Univ., B.S.; V.C.U.; Assistant Football Coach, Assistant Indoor and Outdoor Coach.

Daryl Gates—P.E. 10, Advanced P.E.; Longwood College, B.S.; Girl's Basketball Coach, Girl's Tennis Team Coach.



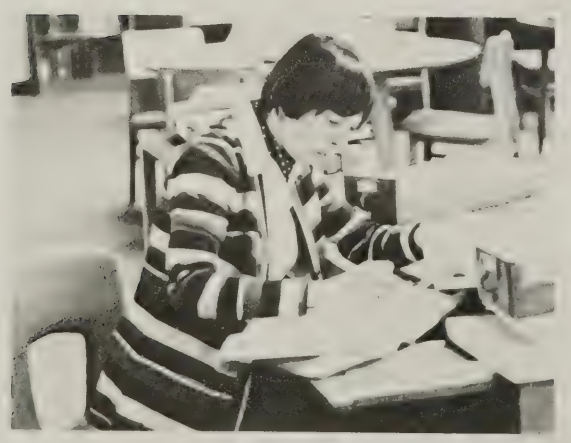
Gabe Hicks—P.E. 10, Driver Education; Ferrum Jr. College, A.A.; Lynchburg College, B.A.; Univ. of Tennessee, M.A.; Head Football Coach.



Loretta Bunting—P.E. 10,11,12, Driver Education; Longwood College, B.S.; Girl's Field Hockey Coach, Girl's Softball Team Coach.

Ruth Tilman—Lynchburg College, B.A.; Student Librarian sponsor.

Bill Cook—P.E. 10,11,12; Atlantic Christian College, V.C.U., B.S.; Head Track Coach, Assistant Football Coach.



Loretta Driver—Jiulard School of Music; Western Connecticut College; B.S.

Nina Hancock—Lamar University; V.C.U.; B.A.

All the athletes in the school can find their special talent in one or a few of the sports played at Midlothian. With the exception of football, wrestling, and hockey, all sports have both a girl's and a guy's team. Rigorous programs keep the participants on their toes. Midlo's library is well equipped to meet the research student's needs as well as those of students who just like to browse or read current magazines.

Fine Arts

James G. Hale—Adv. Band; Intermediate Band; Music Theory; V.C.U., B.M.Ed.; North Texas State, M.M.Ed.; Honor Guard—Drill Team Sponsor.

Rebecca E. Wright—Chorus; General Music; V.C.U.; B.M.Ed.; Majorette Sponsor.

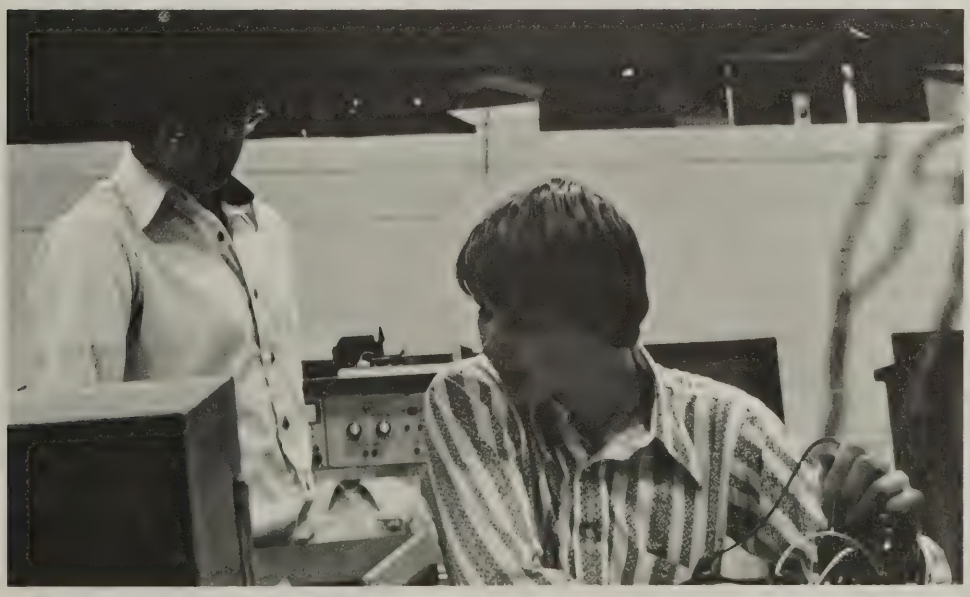
Jean Dalton—Typing I; VPI, B.S.; FBLA Sponsor.

The curriculum of the Business Education Department is designed to prepare students for specialized positions in business as well as to provide an overall general educational background. The program is arranged so that business courses are available to all who desire a basic knowledge of business or vocational skill.

Technical Center



The Technical Center is for all students seeking a vocational career. Studies range from auto mechanics, to nursing, to cosmetology. Each student attends for three periods of their school day. Bus service is provided for their transportation to the center. After completion of the three-hour course, most of the students are ready to enter the job scene using their new skills.

Seniors Think Senior Thoughts . . .

It's being a senior that makes all those long years of schooling seem (almost?) worthwhile. The senior portraits, caps and gowns, graduation practice, and the activities that are strictly for twelfth graders let everyone know they finally made it.

Just One of Those Days . .

It's when the road takes a turn and the end can be seen approaching fast that seniors begin to relax a little for the first time. The grade averages and the ranks worked for so hard begin to slip, and seniors' minds begin to wander. The classwork, tests, projects, and papers are all still there, but the only concern for the senior at this point is to do just enough to get by, and that is exactly what he does.

Caren Radford attempts to handle senior slump in the best way she knows how—giving up!

"But honest Mr. Poates, I have permission to be here!" cries Dana O'Brien.

David Sage and Jim Short don't even try to fight it anymore.

Brad Marrs wonders just how long until lunch.

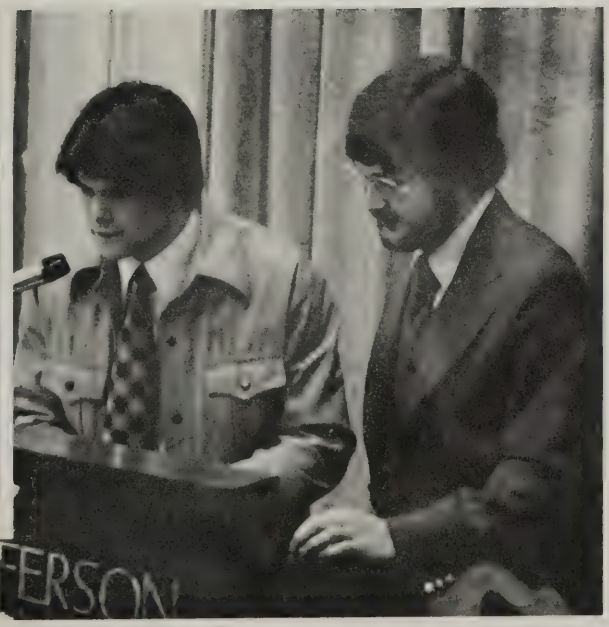
The JEFFERSON Hosts '78 Seniors

Tradition has to have its beginning somewhere, and 1978 proved to be an exceptional year for trend-setting Midlothian Seniors. Many changes were evident in the year's schedule. Most were looked upon favorably by both students and administration. The added highlight for the graduating class was the "First Annual Senior Banquet and Dance." This event was held at the Hotel Jefferson, and "Homegrown" provided the music. Class prophecy was moved from the program on Class Day; and class prophets, Paul Gresham and Brenda Carpenter, read the predictions after dinner. Also, the Last Will and Testament was included in the program, and readings were given by Mike Cannaday and David Phillips. Mrs. Wolfe, the Senior Class sponsor, announced the Senior Superlatives. Before the dinner ended, Mrs. Wolfe received a standing ovation, as all attending the banquet expressed their feelings for her dedication and hard work.



FERSON

Senior Class Looking Glass

This is the 1978 Senior Class of Midlothian High School. Graduation is just a few days away, and most of us have been eagerly awaiting this occasion for the past twelve years. Recently a few of us have felt sadness at knowing that once we graduate, this entire class will probably never be assembled together again. This day, Class Day, has been a popular and historic tradition for seniors in high school for many years. The format for Class Day here at Midlothian has changed over the years, and another change has been made this year. The Last Will and Testament and The Prophecy will not be read today, since this was done at the Senior Banquet. This precedent-setting event, held at the Jefferson Hotel, was a solution to rowdiness that has accompanied Class Day for the past few years. Through the hard work and creativeness of our Senior Council, it was all made possible. This history has been written to commemorate Midlothian High School and the people of the class of '78.

This class has been through so much that a full description is impossible; and since many of us came from many junior high schools, it is inconceivable for me to record all that went down in the schools I did not attend. Anyone trying to record every history-worthy event must begin his search in his own mind, and this is what I have done.

Two unforgettable teachers at Bon Air were Mrs. Houseman and Mrs. Carlton. In House's class a small group of students took it upon themselves to escape a yardstick beating by climbing out the window and heading for the woods. Mrs. Carlton thought she had to be really tough because most of her students towered over her four feet, ten inch figure. In her class we did such things as play with magnets and watch water evaporate. Mr. Edens was our principal for a few years, but he soon relinquished his post to Mr. Locke, who supposedly introduced many students to the "Holey Paddle" and one of those crude instruments that turned the flesh polkadot pink and red.

In the talent department, David Bucner was sort of the leader of the school, winning the talent show two years in a row with melodies from Aqualung and Led Zepplin's Stairway to Heaven. Our sixth grade play, Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol, was a smashing success under the direction of Mrs. Riley and starring Neil Shingleton in the lead role.

Bon Air wasn't much on the usual sports; but when it came to kickball, we were probably the champs. Every year at Bon Air, we would take field trips to some place like Washington, D.C. or Williamsburg; or we toured Nolde's Bakery or the fire station.

We put a lot of hard work in at Bon Air all year, except for one day, Field Day, which was very similar to our Olympic Games here at Midlothian. When we got to Robious, every day was a field day!! "Work at your own pace and turn in your infamous packet when you are finished," seemed like the only instructions given by the teachers. For some of us, this worked very well; but for others, it meant we could do nothing. However, Robious got stricter as we grew older; a one-and-a-half hour lunch turned into one-hour and then a thirty-minute lunch. Many people began referring to it as a penal institution. Any outsider visiting there could have easily mistaken it for a juvenile detention facility. The bathrooms were locked during our third year there to try to stop students from smoking, but this plan failed. Just two years before, a tall, bearded figure who wore large, vividly colored tennis shoes would watch for other approaching teachers in order to allow students to smoke in his bathroom.

Mr. Bradham became the main deterrent to students who had recently acquired the art of getting into trouble. He tried to make everything that went on his business; couples were forbidden to hold hands, loiterers were forced to move on, and everyone who leaned back in a chair was promptly executed.

Sometimes things became pretty hectic at Robious. Bomb threats were common—about once a month. The fire alarms were accidentally-on-purpose pulled so many times that many forgot the lesson of the boy who cried wolf and remained in the school, heedless of the alarm. Cindy Witherington and Gigi Eanes decided to get a sun tan one day on the roof of the school in their undies. And then there was a day when the Tasmanian Devil got loose and went about causing havoc and despair everywhere it went. After being bound and shackled, it managed to escape and was caught again ..... A few coaches were hurt, their watches broken, and Mr. Bradham got it where it counts.

The Science Department had a few gems in "Midder" Page, who would make a great D.J. for Mellow Madness; Mrs. Wooten, to whom we are indebted for all our infinite knowledge of rocks; and Mr. Pruitt, the charm school graduate who was feared by all for his omnious bearing and commanding looks.

Somehow, the majority of us managed to rise above all this turmoil and madness to do enough work to be promoted to Midlothian. The word "work" became a part of our vocabulary again. Mr. Poates made things a lot better for us by restoring our priviledges and by trusting us to do what we felt was right ...

We were once again the lowest head on the totem pole, and everyone became interested in impressing the upperclassmen, in convincing them that we were cool enough to belong. Our class was introduced to the last remnants of the gigantic victory parties whose demise was most likely caused by the Chesterfield County Police uniformed patrol.

"Home Grown," the "No Smoking Area," and "The No Bull Sheet" all became well-known to us.

The month of October provided us with our first taste of what we were to have to do for the next three years in so far as activities such as homecoming. The big magazine drives by the Sophomore class under the leadership of Carolyn Huntley put quite a large sum in the treasury and took quite a large chunk from residents of Midlothian.

Athletes were introduced to the world of high school sports: salt tablets, weight charts, Hick's rhetoric of Trojan football. Sophomores were terrified by frightening events such as Kevin Mahaffey's midnight swim and Mike Cannaday's cross-country run through most of Midlothian and ending on the top of a school bus. That night shocked the J.V. football team so much that they went undefeated with a full schedule for only the second time in history.

The Easter of '76 found the marching band in Mexico, sipping tequilas while the rest of us were just taking another short break from school to go fishing or to visit the grandparents. A word to the sophomores—if you want to join the band, go to Hale ....

Activity period our sophomore year provided a good opportunity for clubs to meet, plan, and organize various projects. But, for some odd reason, the majority of school only utilized this time for goofing off. We realize now that we probably went a little too far with that privilege, and most of us are sorry.

Becoming Juniors meant that we had to act older and take on more responsibility. The Junior class worked harder making the Prom, "Las Vegas Connection." The King, Frank Gresham, showed up late; so Mr. Poates danced with Gloria O'Brien, who had been crowned Queen. Everybody had a good time with the exception of a few unfortunates who never should have gotten up that day. A good example of this type of person is one who was involved in working on the prom, had to take SAT's that morning, run in the track meet that afternoon, then go home and get dressed. Those dreaded SAT's haunted Juniors for weeks until they finally received their scores and discovered that their worries were justified. Mrs. Voight informed us of the college requirements, and we began to think seriously about college requirements and careers. Herff-Jones came along and destroyed our wallets with the sale of class rings. Everybody had to get his rings turned, but the novelty soon wore off.

Those who made it through their Junior year anxiously awaited their Senior year. Once again we were the oldest in the school, and had to act accordingly. We sent applications to colleges everywhere hoping that one would accept us. We were ranked and put through the rigors of the Achievement Test. Many of us were confused, upset, and disillusioned by our ranks and scores.

Homecoming was a great success this year, with nearly everyone dressing up for Clown Day and a record crowd at the football game against Manchester. Midlothian's raid on Manchester is evidence of the spirit of this class.

Our gift from the Juniors this year, the Prom, really was "A Night On The Town". The band and decorations were excellent. Mike Cannaday and Tamara Shelton were crowned King and Queen, and both were present this year for the figure, much to the disappointment of Mr. Poates ... By the time the Prom had arrived, the Seniors had fallen into the gutter as far as their school work went ..... Teachers tried to compensate with thesis papers, reports, and large tests. Seniors worked only to get exempted from exams, one of our "many" privileges this year.

This class has many accomplishments to be proud of. Many improvements have been made around the school during our three years here. The parking lot was paved, new tennis courts were built, and the appropriation for a sign for the front of the school has been provided by the SCA. The things mentioned in this history only skim the surface of all that went down. It has been fun trying to recall the most important happenings. This history will hopefully serve to stimulate the memory of some unforgettable times. The people of this class are what made it great, and they will surely go down in history.

Yoel Yonan

Recognition and Reserve

Gone were the antics that made such a disturbance in previous years; gone were the Class Prophecy readings and Last Will and Testament recitings; here was reserve. Class Day took on a new image as seniors filed into the gym and took their places for the last time. The graduating cass of '78 lived up to the high expectations of faculty and administration as awards and recognitions were given out. Yoel Yonan, class president, read aloud his remembrances of the class history, and smiles could be seen everywhere around the gym. The '78 Seniors brought back respect to the old tradition of Class Day, and with many good feelings the program ended.

Yoel Yonan relates some stories.

Caren Radford receives honor.

Mr. Hale presents engraved sword.

Kathryn Duke receives her award.

Jack Wright and John Talbot put on a show.

Mrs. Wolfe tries to be patient.

Feel it Comin'?

Graduation practice—what better way for Seniors to be assured that the end is coming up fast! Finding their way out of the stands, they settled into their line-up places on the field and listened to the explicit instructions of Boss Hale; Mrs. Wolfe was there also, of course. When the practice was finally over, it was obvious by everyone's face that all felt confident of their ability to handle any situation that might present itself on June 8.

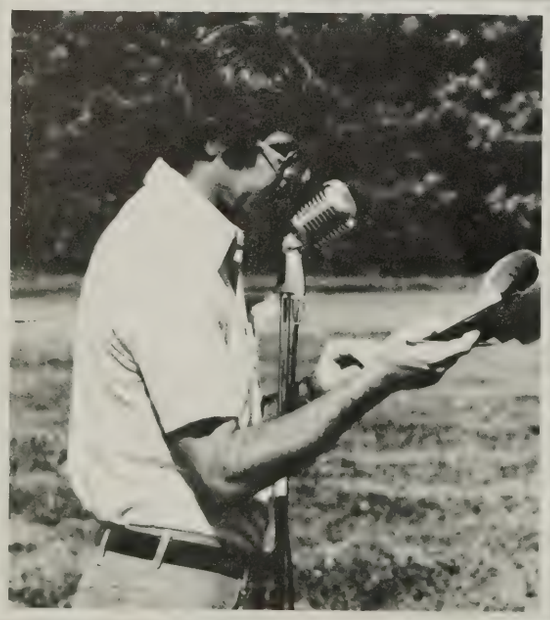
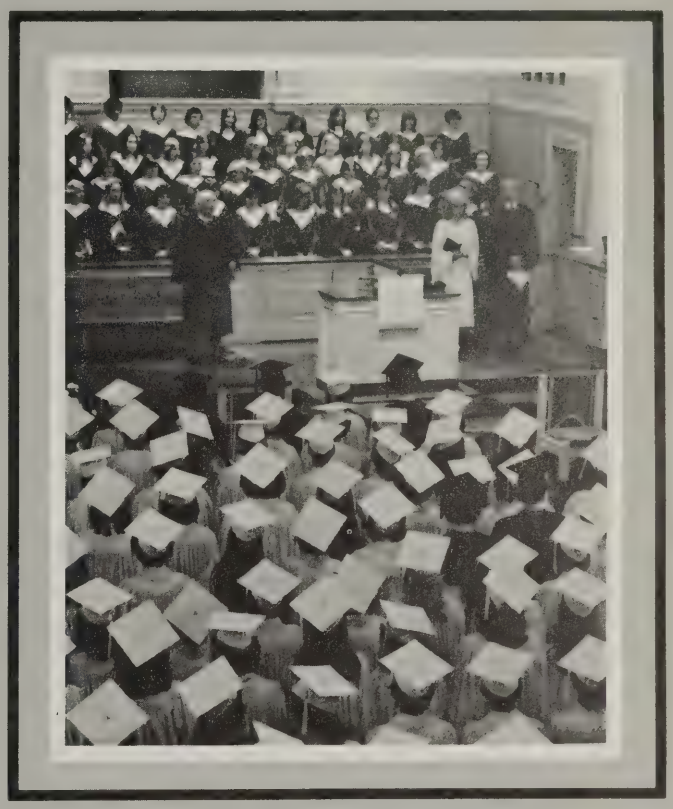
Matt Bennett, "It was left over, wasn't it?"

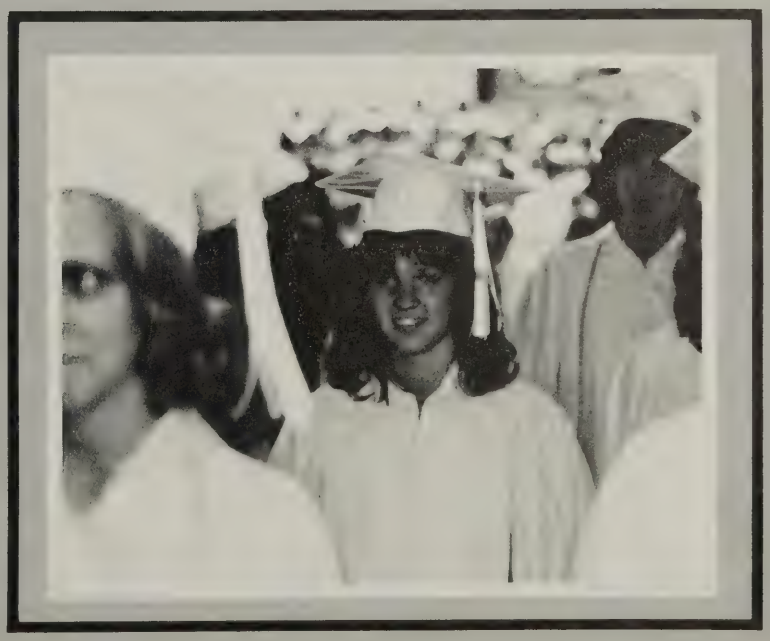


Seniors make their way out of the stands.

"Rules for Living"

On June 4, in a dignified and thoughtful ceremony, Seniors entered Bon Air Baptist Church for an inspiring Baccalaureate service. Reverend Robert F. Cochran opened the service, and Dr. Frank G. Voight addressed the graduates and their families. Dr. Voight emphasized some very old, but always important "Rules for Living." Anthems of praise were sung in a combined effort by Midlothian's choruses and the service ended. Seniors filed out of the church removing robes and catching caps as they fell from their heads. Once again they went their separate ways.





"Afoot and light-hearted I take to the open road
Healthy, Free, the world before me,
The long brown path before me leading Wherever I choose."
"Song of the Open Road"

As the final days for the Class of '78 approached, Seniors looked back on their past twelve years. Thoughts dwelled in the minds of all as they reflected back on the road they had traveled and the new one that lay before them. The tears and laughter that were present everywhere on graduation were proof enough that though the way had been long and difficult at times, it was well worth the effort.

Threatening clouds and gray skies gave way to rain on June 8 so graduation was held one night late. Liz Goode, Valedictorian, and Tina Fulford, Salutatorian, gave their speeches, and Seniors assembled and moved forward to receive their diplomas. Returning to their places, it was the last time the Class of '78 would stand together as a whole, but the memories would remain even though the group would go separate ways.

Valedictorian Liz Goode receives plaque as Midlo's number one graduate. Orchestra presents concert prior to graduation. Norm Guenther, 1977-'78 President of the SCA receives his diploma. Salutatorian Tina Fulford addresses the audience. Mike Cannaday smiles with satisfaction at having "made it." Faces of the graduates show varied emotion upon completion of the ceremonies.

Back to the Books

After three lazy months of summer, the day finally came to get back to the books. Some students were ready to go back to school to see the friends they may not have seen all summer, but most Midlothian Juniors weren't ready to leave the beach or the pool to come back to the familiar halls of Midlo for the nine months of study that awaited them. Once the initial shock of the first day back to Midlothian had worn off, most students settled down to work.

Juniors were faced with P.S.A.T's, that are a determining factor in their academic future. Some Juniors' academic futures didn't appear too bright after the scores on the P.S.A.T's were returned, but S.A.T.'s, in May, presented Juniors with another chance to prove themselves academically.

Believe it or not, some people do study during study hall.

Juniors don't clown around . . . Juniors get down!!!

Juniors Clown Around in '77

Homecoming Week is by far the wildest week at Midlothian. Even those who aren't involved with float decorating, the dance, or the football game seem to get caught up in the festivities of the Trojan Homecoming.

On Thursday of Homecoming Week, the Pep Club and the Cheerleaders fought to a draw in the Powder Puff Football Game. (maybe next year, Pep Club!) The girls and their coaches were cheered on by the student body and some very nice looking male cheerleaders.

The theme "Under the Big Top" was apparent throughout the week. Friday was Clown Day. Students dressed and acted like clowns all day. Floats filled with clowns and circus acts dominated the parade.

Mary Beth Falls, Beth Baron, and Jenny Sawyer were chosen to represent the Junior Class in the Princess Talent Show and in the Homecoming Parade that precedes the football game. Surprisingly enough, not one drop of rain fell on the team as they fought their way to victory against the "Rednecks" of Manchester. Weejie Thompson and Gary Holland proved that seniors aren't the only ones who can play football. Although Homecoming was a lot of fun, it made the Juniors realize that next year's Homecoming would be their last at Midlothian.

I Like Dreamin'

As the pictures on these two pages show, daydreaming, sleeping, or just resting the eyes is a part of every Junior's life at Midlothian. If these people were asked why they couldn't make it through the day, a typical reply would probably be, "I had to start writing my term paper that was due today" or "My parents went out of town this weekend and I had a FEW friends over." Whatever their reasons may be, we hope the dreams they have about Midlo aren't all nightmares.

Athletics round out the students life at Midlothian. They present the student with a chance to learn to give and take in a team situation and to except winning and losing graciously.

Sports are a big part of many Junior's lives at Midlothian. With the exception of wrestling, all Juniors who participate in sports at Midlo belong to varsity teams.

Guilty or Not Guilty

Mrs. Wolfe's government classes participated in a mock trial during February. Each of the positions in the court was filled by a government student. A ficticious character was being tried for murder. The jury, composed of students from study halls, found the defendant guilty. The students not only learned a great deal about our system of courts, but they also had a good time.

Juniors Chose Rings

"Will you turn my ring?" could be heard all over Midlothian the day the rings arrived. Having your ring turned 79 times is said to bring good luck. Midlothian Juniors were careful to save their 79th turn for a "special friend," because the 79th turn is accompanied by a kiss!!!

Spring Fever

"Spring Fever", the theme for the SCA-sponsored dance, was held in February. Though small in number, those who attended seemed to have a great time. "Spring Fever" was an appropriate name for the dance. Winter seemed as if it would never end. Most Juniors were ready for spring. Spring meant S.A.T.'s, working on the prom, and best of all, spring break.

Lots of Fun . . . Lots of Work.

Midlothian Juniors traditionally give a gift to the Seniors each year. That gift is the prom. This year the theme for the prom was "A Night On The Town." The hours that were spent painting murals, building backdrops, and preparing refreshments paid off on May 6th. With the help of the band, "Crimson," Midlothian's prom was a total success.

I wonder if we will ever get done by Saturday. (We did!)

An End . . . A Beginning

These students' junior year may be coming to an end, but it is also a beginning. The experiences that they have had will aid them in their future endeavors. The rings that were purchased, the grades that were earned, and the friends that were made all contribute to becoming a responsible, intelligent adult. As a senior, the students will learn and experience many new things, but the happenings of a student's junior year will not be easily forgotten.

Sophomore Hall

For Sophomores, coming to a new school is at first confusing, but soon they fit right in and things begin to run smoothly. The Sophomore hall is the place where the Sophomores get together and discuss the happenings in the first leg of the high school road.

The sophomore hall is not always crowded between classes.

At first some Sophomores rely on their friends for help and counseling.

Lori Randall conducts a gossip session.

Did you hear about Mrs. J.'s biology test?

Operation Frog

One thing all sophomores must encounter along their high school road is frog dissecting. Most of the girls cringe in disgust, and the boys delight in seeing the girls squirm. After it is all over though, it doesn't seem as bad as anticipated.

Sharon Kellam really gets involved with dissecting the frog.

"Is all of this really necessary?"

Pinned down, the frog had no chance.

Many times when the dissecting is finished, what is left barely resembles a frog.

Sophomores involve themselves in many activities. They show their enthusiasm and school spirit at pep rallies. Their willingness to work also shows when they give their help to plays and other activities of the school.

In their first year at Midlothian, Sophomores are faced with many situations. The expressions that are seen on their faces reflect the way they feel about each situation—their boredom, and to the other extreme, excitement.

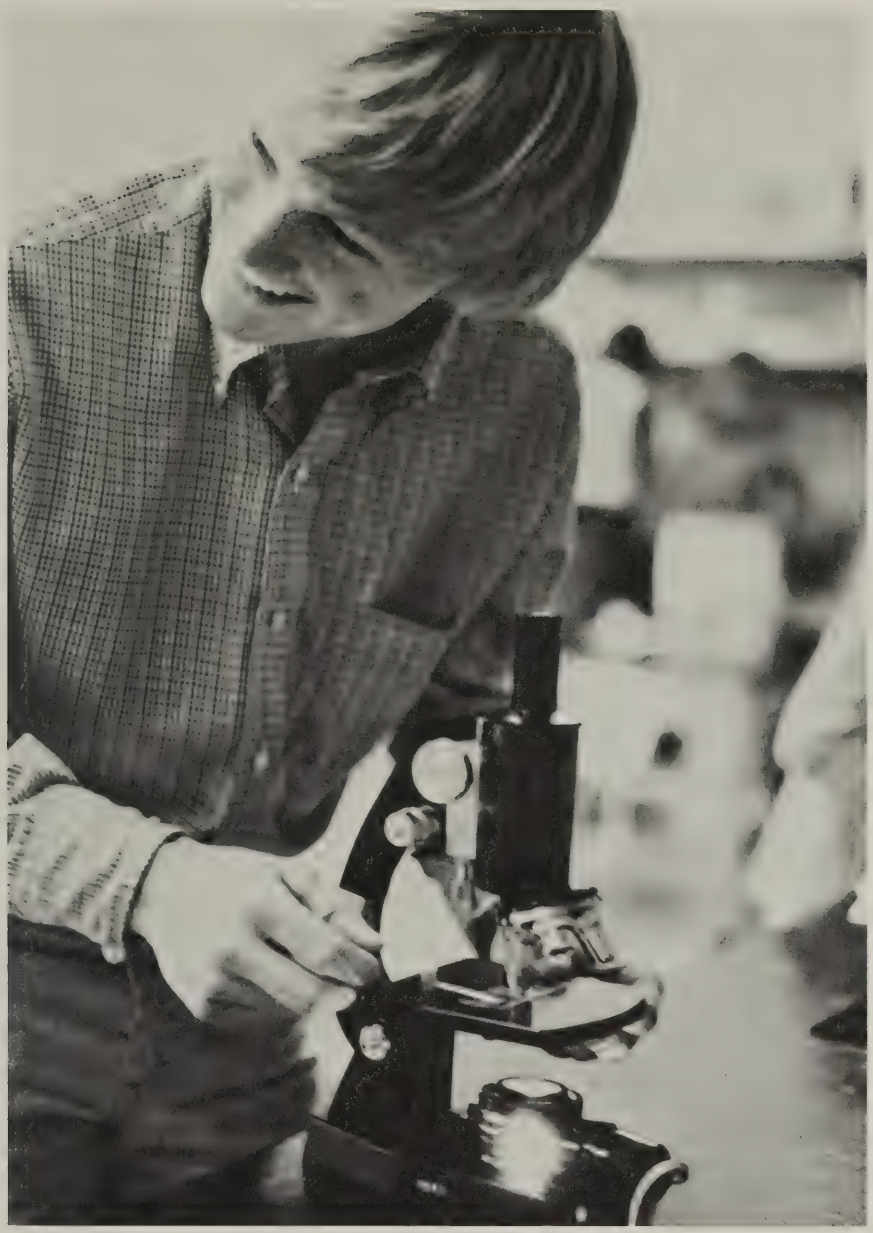
Sophs in Class

One experience Sophomores are unable to avoid is classes. They are likely to learn anything from what happens when you cross a yellow pea plant with a green plant to what is the square root of Einstein's theory. Though things can get boring, Sophomores are always able to have a little fun.



Lance Wallace tries to work the microscope without looking.

Are you sure that is the right answer? I wouldn't want to get this wrong.

The Road Turns

During the 1977-78 year, Sophomores have participated in numerous events. They have increased their knowledge in studying subjects such as biology and have learned through experience things like Homecoming and behind-the-wheel. Some Sophomores were even recognized for their efforts. With all of this experience behind them, they are now ready for the turn in the road that will lead to their junior year.

These pages are devoted to our photographers. This year Paul Gresham, A.J. Szumski, Glenn McGonnigle, and Kevin Hopkins contributed their time and effort to the yearbook staff. Despite rapidly approaching deadlines and constant demands on their personal time, our photographers were able to help make the 1978 Trojan a better book. Since many of their favorite shots are not able to be displayed elsewhere in the yearbook, this is their opportunity to show their work.

German Club

This year the German Club was very busy. The first nine weeks the club went to Mad King Ludwigs for dinner to try German food. During Oktoberfest the German Club had dancers at Sycamore Square and served apple cider. During Christmas they held a progressive dinner at several different homes. Led by James Wilson, the club visited Germany, Austria, and Switzerland. They participated in the Arts Festival at Robious with German dancing displayed. The year ended with the Olympic games during Language Week.

The 1977-78 Choruses completed a successful year. All choruses sang separately in the Christmas Concert and then "Messiah". Thirty-eight students from all Choruses were chosen to participate in the Regional Chorus at Petersburg High School. All choruses participated in the Vocal Festival in March. Two students were chosen to sing in the All State Chorus in Waynesboro. The Mixed Choir and the Mixed Chorus both sang at River Road Baptist Church. All four choruses finished the year with the Spring Concert.

The SCA, sponsored by Mrs. Bailey, worked hard for the school and community. The annual Homecoming dance was a huge success. Everyone had a good time, and the Homecoming parade flowed smoothly. During the Christmas season, the SCA sponsored a family. The sophomores and juniors each had a boy while the seniors sponsored a girl. The students brought in food, toys, and clothes to make the family's Christmas a success. The SCA also sponsored a Spring Fever dance in late February.

Distributive Education Club is Involved

The Distributive Education Club sponsored its annual career fair in the fall of this year. They also attended the Fall Rally at Byrd Park. Throughout the fall and into the winter, they sponsored the DECA Diner. They have held many meetings in which they invited guest speakers. They held their candy sales to make money and awarded an eight pound candy bar.

The National Honor Society serves the school and community. This year the society is sponsoring a child to attend an Easter Seal Camp. They are also offering two scholarships to Midlothian Seniors. To raise money for these projects, the society sold candy bars. Two members, Brad Marrs and Tamara Shelton, were sponsored for a national scholarship. Each year, the society holds two tappings, one in the fall and one in the spring, with traditional candles and carnations.

The Pep Club spreads and promotes school spirit throughout the year. This year they took on the project of keeping the bulletin board in order. The Pep Club played their annual Powder Puff football game against the cheerleaders which ended in a 0-0 tie. As a group, the Pep Club attended and supported football, basketball, hockey, and baseball games. The club also brought in doughnuts for the teachers on a teacher workday. Promoting school spirit is the main purpose of the Pep Club.

Our sponsor, Mrs. Miles, gives her opinion.

The 1978 Trojan staff overcame many early problems. Our new sponsor, Mrs. Miles, quickly learned that not everything comes easy. This year the staff was split. The integral part of the staff worked everyday during third period with afternoon assistance from the rest of the members. In the fall, several people attended a workshop and got a lot of new ideas. Trying a new advertising campaign, T-Shirts were worn by the staff. Despite mass humiliation, members bore the message for several days. Things finally fell into place when the first deadline had to be met.

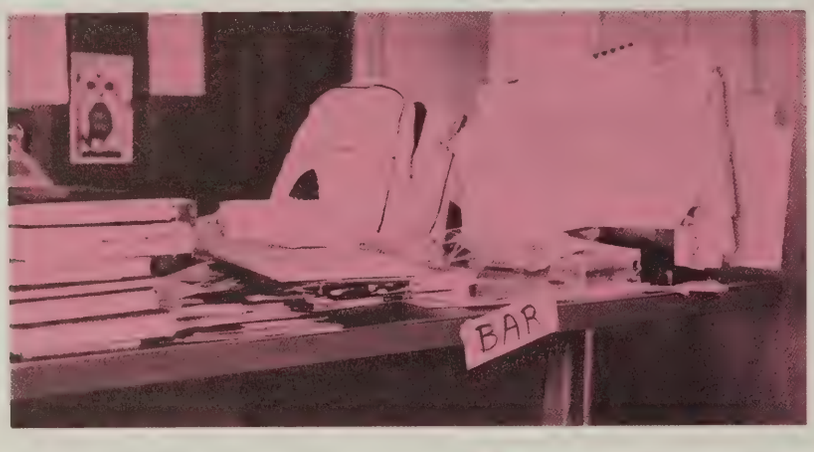
STUDENT LIFE



School Can Be Fun?

(From top to bottom) What are all of those arrows pointing to? The advanced gym class finds a good way to get off the roof. When did Jone's Corner Bar open for business? William Stafford, a poet, jots down a quick verse during his talk with English classes. Dan Weddle finds that drinking out of a test tube isn't easy.

(From top to bottom) Cheri Pridgen has a hard time thinking of something original to write at the signing party. When it gets too wet for the cheerleaders, Mike Sweeney takes over. Randy Robertson leads the "band" at halftime. Larry Griggs wonders how a flashlight tastes. Tom Bradley and Bruce Johnson check over their entry in the Third Great James River Raft Race.

Princesses Perform in

Before voting for Homecoming Queen, the students got to see each princess display some of her individual talent. The emcees, Mike Cannaday and Pete Conklin, did a good job of keeping the audience laughing between acts. Among the various talents were dancing, singing, and piano and guitar playing. Representing the sophomore class were Suzanne Hall, Liz Morris, and Sherry Pearce. The juniors chose Mary Beth Falls, Beth Baron, and Jenny Sawyer as the princesses for their class. Tamara Shelton, Jody West, Diane Bodtke, and Karen Hough completed the homecoming court as the senior princesses.

my friends could see me now," thinks Jody West. Gloria O'Brien, last year's queen. Is Jody surprised?

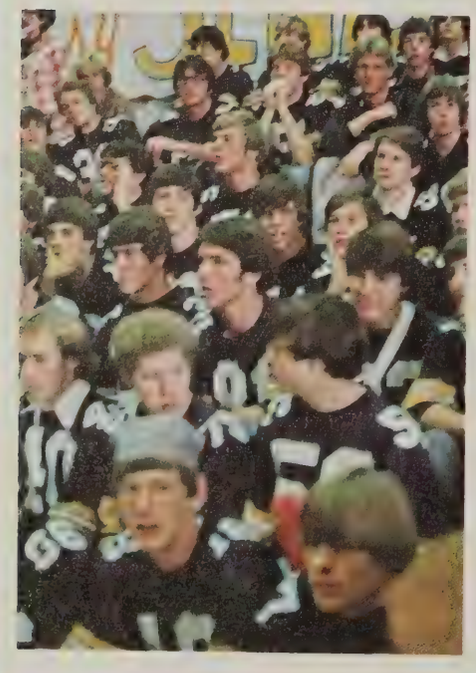
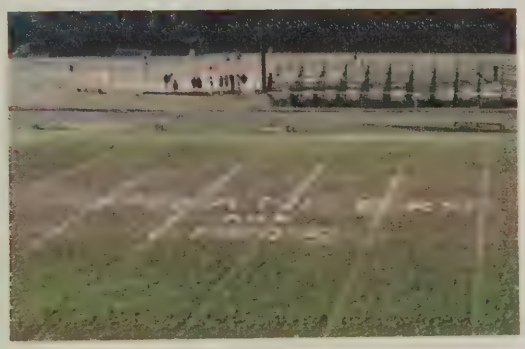
Riding on cars during the parade Friday night, the princesses were shivering, but still smiling. When halftime arrived, each princess walked onto the field with her escort, anxiously awaiting the announcement of Queen. First, the most talented princess was announced as Jody West based on her performance in the Talent Show, and Liz Morris was voted Maid of Honor. An excited Jody West succeeded Gloria O'Brien as Homecoming Queen of 1977. That special Friday night will surely remain a vivid memory in each of the ten girls' minds for a long time.

Midlo Plays Under The Big Top





As in every year, the 1979 Homecoming week brought a welcome change to life at Markham. In addition to the traditional Homecoming activities, the 1979 theme gave way to something new. Clown Day, a pep rally was held and students competed for the title of the best-dressed clown. The powderpuff game between the Pep Club and the Cheerleaders proved to be a close match. The outstanding participation in all the Homecoming activities helped to make the 1979 Homecoming a week well worth remembering.

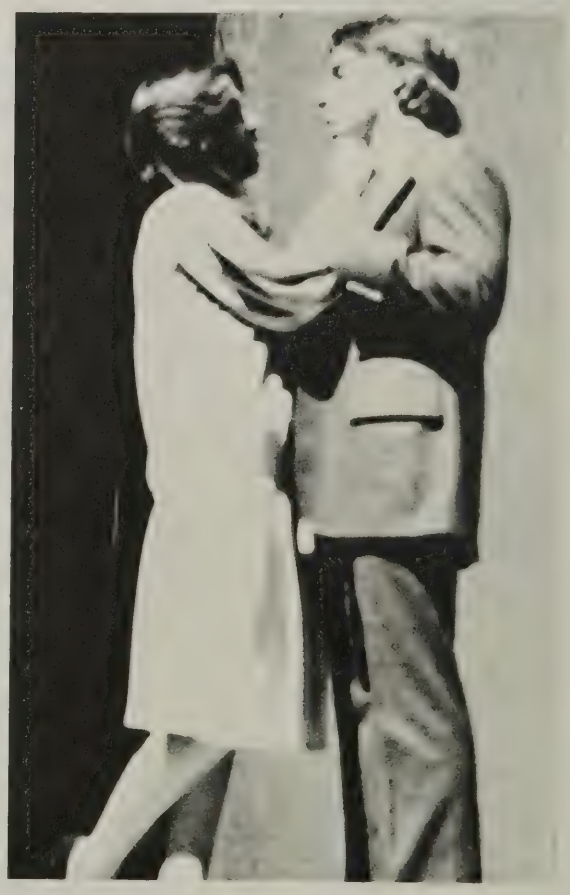
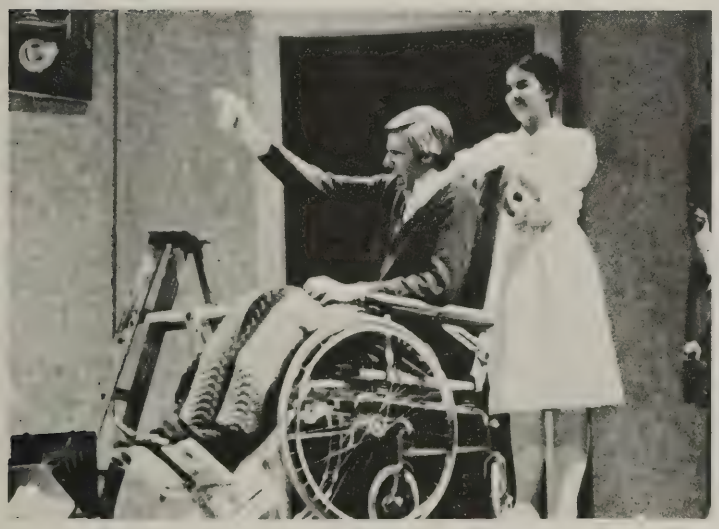
THE GIOCONDA SMILE

Counterclockwise—Tim Goplerud asks Janet for the dance. Bill Freimuth and Tim Goplerud discuss the murder. Sue Jaeger asks, "What do you mean she killed Emily?" "Oh, teddy bear," says Patty Chazo.



The drama department brought a taste of mystery to Midlothian this fall. The intricate plot of the murder mystery, The Gioconda Smile, was set in England during the 1820's. Every character was a suspect in the murder of Emily Hutton. The viewer is held in suspense until the end, when the confession of Janet Spence (Sue Jaeger) brings the play to a close. The Gioconda Smile provided an enjoyable evening of entertainment for all who attended.

Clockwise from right corner—"We don't think Henry's innocent do we?" asks Kursti North. Greg Weisiger wishes he were dead. Sue Jaeger comforts distraught Patty Chazo. Bill Freimuth reflects on the murder. Kursti North asks Sue Jaeger about Henry's actions.



Fall Sports Awards

The annual Fall Sports Awards gives recognition to the top athletes at Midlothian. CROSS COUNTRY—Paul Webb, Most Valuable; Todd Howard, Most Improved. FIELD HOCKEY—Margaret Moore, Most Valuable; Wendi Berry, Most Improved. GIRL'S VARSITY BASKETBALL—Susan Foster, Most Improved; Marge Merrell, Most Consistent; Sheila York, Most Valuable. FOOTBALL—Kevin Sharp, All-Metro; Weegie Thompson, All-District; Jack Wright, Most Effort; Kevin Sharp, Best Defensive; Doug Estridge, Best Offensive Back; J.C. Marshall, Best Offensive Blocker; Coulter James, Most Valuable.

Winter Sports Awards

Clockwise from top right to center: Coming a long way this year, Dan Schmitt receives the Most Valuable Player award for basketball. Cathy Dechaira smiles with her gymnastics award. Receiving the Most Valuable trophy for indoor track makes two M.V.P.'s for Coulter James this year. Four-year letterman Jack Wright deserves his Most Valuable trophy for wrestling. Tom Pedlow makes the basketball Best Defense award a two-time tradition. Coach Wilton awards Matt Bennett the Most Improved trophy for wrestling. The Most Improved basketball award goes to Dean Lakey.

Trojan Talent

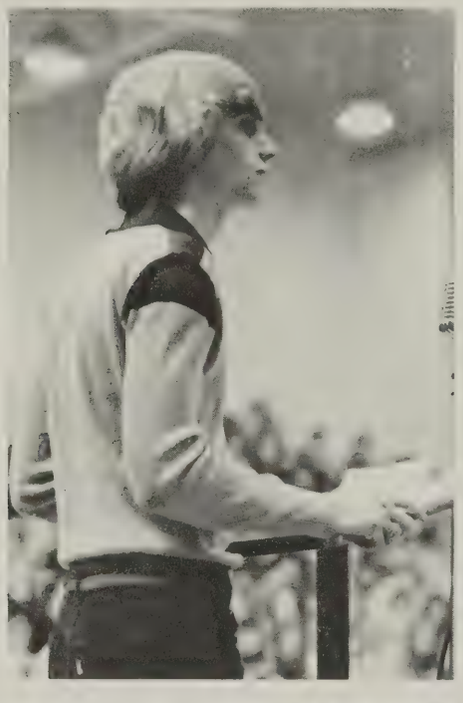
The annual Majorette Talent Show started off with a crash this year as Greg Weisiger collided into the stage on his Big Wheel. Drawing a good crowd, the predominantly musically oriented show went over well—due to lots of good work.

Top to bottom: Milly Hoelzel and Leigh Summers play their flutes. Greg Weisiger is ready for bed. Eugene Sykes does the "Robot" like Shields and Yarnell. Donna Taylor and Michelle Murray sing "Wedding Song." Betsy Baird and Diane Fraser play and sing an original song. Gary Moran leads his band. Amy Davis sings and plays her own accompaniment. Brenda Carpenter acts surprised.

SCA Elections

The SCA Elections were held in late March. At a special SCA meeting of the entire student body, each office-seeker gave a small speech explaining why he was the best choice for his respective office. Todd Hylton won the presidency unopposed, and Miles Whitten took the vice-presidency in a run-off election. Beth Baron, Caroline Barden, and Chuck Staton were elected treasurer, secretary, and chaplain, respectively.

From top left: Chuck Staton complains that we are thrown into groups: jocks, heads, and brains. Anne Hall wears one of her Rs. The Casual approach works for Miles Whitten. Todd Hylton speaks of the lack of enthusiasm in the SCA. The candidates. Suzanne Utley gives her last devotion. Jeff Smith reveals startling results of the SCA "know-your-officers" poll.



High Times

For most Midlothian students, no weekend is complete without a party. Friday afternoons echoed with voices asking, "Where's the party?" The parties varied in sizes and methods of partying. Many a memorable party took place at Diane Fraser's house. Paul Gresham, Helene Conroy, and Janet Bland entertained several hundred students at their homes on Friday and Saturday nights. Parties gave students a chance to forget about the problems of school; the year seemed to pass more quickly, thanks to the good times had at the parties.

The Drama Department's production of "Good Morning Miss Dove" told the story of a schoolteacher in a small American town. Miss Dove's stern and rigid views helped to bring up many of the people in her community, as she taught for many years. The conflict arises when the snobby mother of the new boy in school refuses to accept Miss Dove's teaching principles. In the end of the play, Miss Dove realizes the gentler side of her nature can also be valuable to her profession; and she promises to put it to use.

Clockwise from top right: Ralph Scott (Brad Marrs) leaves Lucerna with a kiss. Fred Makepeace, a former pupil played by Brian Yuhase, visits Miss Dove in the hospital. Miss Dove (Milly Hoelzel) remains firm. Kursti North, playing Mrs. Bradley, tries to influence Miss Dove. The class sings a get-well-soon song to Miss Dove.

Good Morning Miss Dove

From top to bottom: Kimber Woelfel, as Lucerna, explains the split between the two parts of Miss Dove. Miss Dove listens to a letter from a student's (Tim Williamson) brother in the army. Ralph Scott tries to understand Lucerna's refusal. George Bradley listens as Miss Dove and his mother argue.

This is Basketball?

Basketball took on two new perspectives this year. The annual Jr.-Sr. basketball rivalry was changed to a student-faculty match-up. Of course the students won, commanding a twenty point advantage. Indeed, the DECA-sponsored donkey basketball game added quite a bit to the average person's ideas of the game. Again the competition was between students and faculty, but the final outcome gave the teachers a come-from-behind victory.

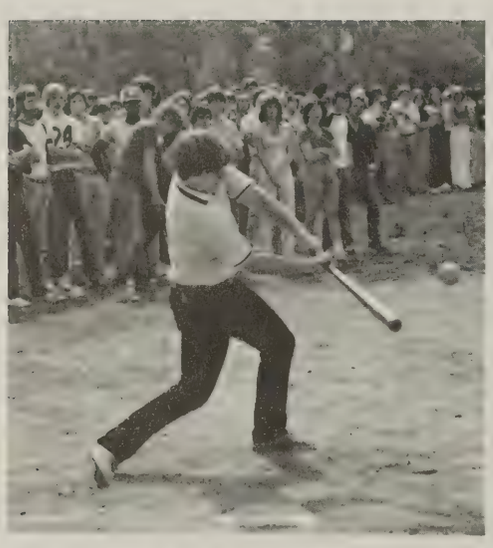
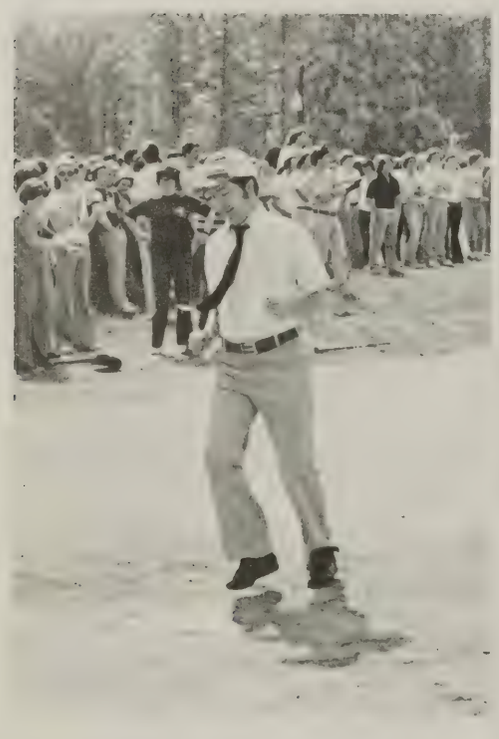
Student-Faculty Softball

The annual Student-Faculty Softball Game provided Midlothian students with a chance to get out of the classroom and enjoy an entertaining show. The faculty team, backed by the throwing arm of Mr. Carter, presented a challenge to the student team. Ending in a tie score, the softball game brought some needed relief from the well-established routine.





Left to right, top to bottom: Coach Wilton tries to dodge the tag. Mr. Hale puts the ball away. John "Fred" Lewis helps out the student team. Coach Lester rounds the bases. Mrs. Morano swings a little too high. Mr. Carter heads for home. "The Crowd."

Intramurals

Clockwise from top left to center: Put him down! Dan Crooks watches Brian Allen's aim. Both Elliot Keener and Steve Fetrow try to gain an advantage. Up, up, and away. Intramural softball proved popular with onset of good weather. David Estridge prepares to follow Keith Simon's foul shot.

This year's intramurals included activities such as basketball, softball, arm wrestling, frisbee, and foul shooting. As an alternative to sitting in homeroom every activity period, many people participated in the program.

Four Corners of the World

Language Week, with its theme of Four Corners of the World, provided Midlothian students with good food and a glimpse of life outside the United States. Tickets for the Taster's Supper became collector's items due to the early sellout. This year's foreign exchange student assembly posed such questions as, "How much does a pair of jeans cost in your country?" and "What is your favorite American food?" As Mrs. Jones, head of the Language Department, said, "Language Week has become an annual tradition; now I can't even remember how many years we've had it."

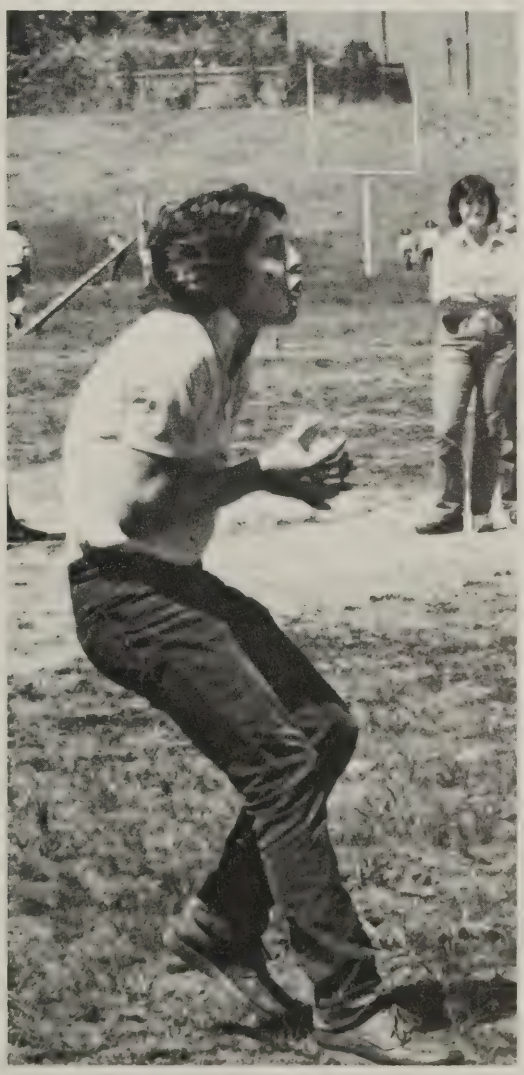
Left to right from top left: The students take a rest. Representatives from Finland and Argentina listen to the answers. Lucille Romanello and Todd Hylton pose the questions. Betsy Morris sings to the Finnish music. Pablo tells of life in Chile. Margaret Moore thanks Mrs. Jones for her scholarship. The Thailand representative gives her answer.

Clockwise from top right: Ellen Maynard winds up for the toss. Carolyn Huntley watches from the side. The Spanish end of the rope looks tough. Dan Crooks controls the lead. Sam Giles takes a backhand shot.

Having to come to school on a Saturday met protests from many students. But since Language Week Olympic Games were the same day, it wasn't so bad after all. With a whole school day for the competitions, many games were available to language students. Such traditional battles as baton relays, egg tosses, basketball, ping pong, and volleyball were joined by tennis and Frisbee this year. Latin was the overall winner with Spanish taking second. The day went over well with all those involved, whether they were playing or watching.

A Saturday Playday

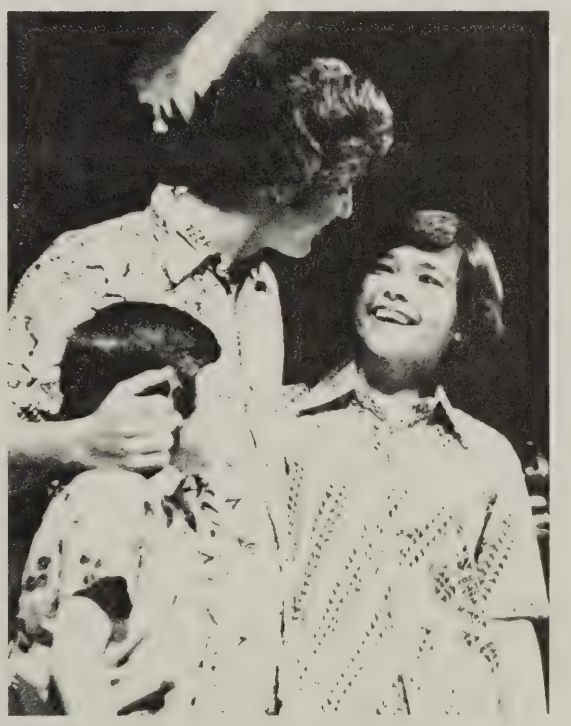
Clockwise from top left: Mark Barden puts on the final push in the baton relay. A frontline player leaps to spike the volleyball. Susan Phillips eyes the ball. Catching an egg makes David O'Brien double over. Using his tongue helps Bill Freimuth concentrate.



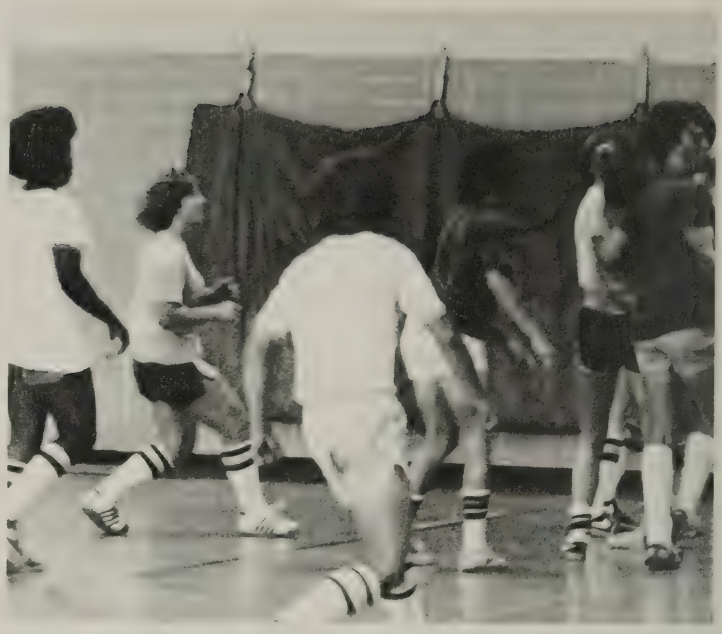
South Pacific

Clockwise from top right: Nellie, Liz McIntyre, thanks Billis, Pete Conklin, for doing her laundry. Billis talks to the rest of the crew. Stewpot, Tim Williamson, gets into "There's Nothing Like a Dame." Nellie longs for Emile. Bloody Mary, Debbie Mays, plays matchmaker. Seabee Bradford, Jeff Nowland, shows fellow seabees some high-steps.

This year's musical, South Pacific, proved to be one of the most successful productions ever presented at Midlothian. Running from Tuesday through Saturday, the show drew sellout crowds. The familiar story, set in the tropics, entertained all who ventured to see it. Congratulations are in order to all involved; the production was a success.



Clockwise from top right: Bloody Mary bargains with Billis. Emile, Andy Wakefield, sings to Nellie. Jerome, Russ Sherry; Ngana, Claudia Chazo; and Emile sing "Dites-moi." Private Larson, Doug Crumley, sings to Seaman Adams, Jeff Smith. Bloody Mary sells grass skirts. "There's nothing like a dame," and the guys know it.



The battle of the sexes came to Midlo this year in the form of a basketball game. The girls' team, made up mostly of varsity players, took on a team composed of guys from the junior and senior classes. The guys took an early lead which they kept throughout the game to capture a "meaningful" victory.

From top to bottom: Marge Merrell's shot is blocked. The crowd follows the ball. The defense sets up to block out the girls. Tom Gerow moves faster than the camera to cover Sheila York.

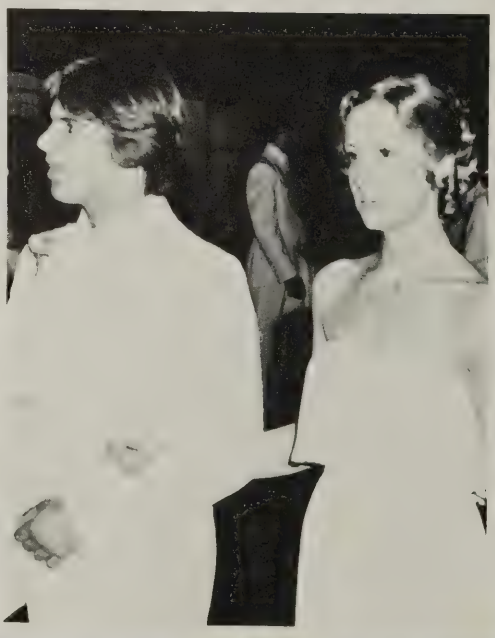
What are Kenneth Porter and his date looking for? Matt Bennett tries to open his eyes. Steve Fetrow and Susan Schneider smile for the camera. Mike Cannaday and Tamara Shelton, Prom King and Queen, led the first dance.

Dancers enjoy the music of Crimson. Brad Marrs and Debbie Mays make their entrance. Kimber Woelful and Jeff Nowland show everyone how to dance. Together. Pam Vines and Garland Orcutt represent the yearbook staff. Tom Pedlow's attention wanders. Brad Thomson gives his valuable opinion. The figure proceeds. Jeff Jones and Jenny Sawyer represent Midlothian tennis.

A Night on the Town saw the Midlothian gym turned into Sam Miller's Exchange Cafe, The Tobacco Company, and The Warehouse. Gold-ribboned champagne glasses and souvenir matchbooks adorned the tables. The sophomore servers faithfully donned the outfits of waitresses and waiters. The band, Crimson, was a rare excellence, providing continual music.

Night Life



Clockwise from left corner: Ken Holder leads the way. Paul Webb looks around. Troy Henshaw gets down. Wake up, Robin Ratliffe. Listen to the music. Terri Dolezal holds on to her date. Time for a test. Shelia York goes for a stroll.

Warm Weather Eases

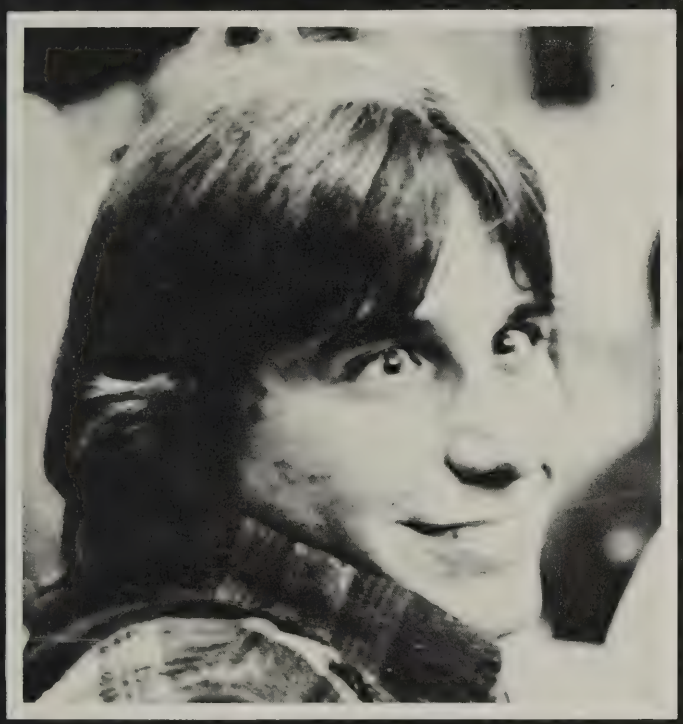
Student Tensions



Clockwise from top left: Whit Williams didn't get that last sentence. Mitchell Lester explains things to David Sage. Bill Freimuth laughs as Tasha Depp misses the frisbee. Apparently Robert Morris doesn't realize that you can't get sun in the shade. Neil Shingleton says, "Don't bother me, man. I'm trying to get some sun." Bill Freimuth's impression of???.

Free Time

Finding diversions from school work isn't really hard. By participating in special projects, making music, enjoying friends, or just watching a winter time snowfall, many students got a chance to have a good time at school.

Clockwise from center: David Turner suits up for the season. The "crowd" at the Spring Fever dance. George Kapsalas ties up his desk. Snow falls on the smoking area. Stacy Huggins handles the drums during a stage band performance. Bread and cheese make a great snack for Susan Foster. To Kathy Fitzgerald, playing the violin is a serious matter. Fastpickin' Dan Weddle shows how it's done.

"THINK . . ."

For many years the Trojan has not been dedicated to any one person, yet this year we present the 1978 edition of the annual in honor of Miss Martin's many years of teaching and guiding. Since 1968 Miss Martin has taught in the Science Department. She has had classes in physics, chemistry, biology, and science 9. The enrollment in physics classes has so increased that now there are four classes instead of the original one. Because of her extreme patience with student's problems and her good understanding of how to go about helping students with these difficulties, she has been affectionately named "MA" by her classes. With her retirement this June, Miss Martin will be missed at Midlothian very much.

SPORTS

J.V.'s Do It Again

This was Coach Lester's third season of coaching the Junior Varsity football team. It was also the third undefeated season for the J.V.'s. The boys possessed all the dominating qualities for a good team. A powerful defense and scoring offense prevailed throughout the entire season. The team worked well together, and everyone combined all of their efforts and talents to insure a winning season, which they had.

Coach Lester can't believe what he saw.

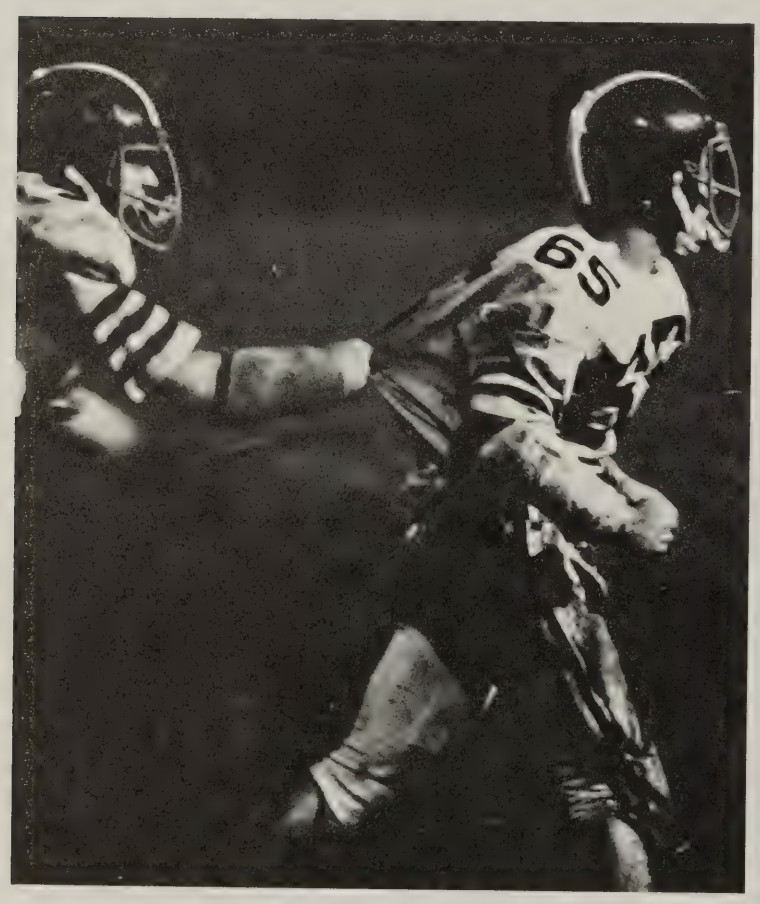
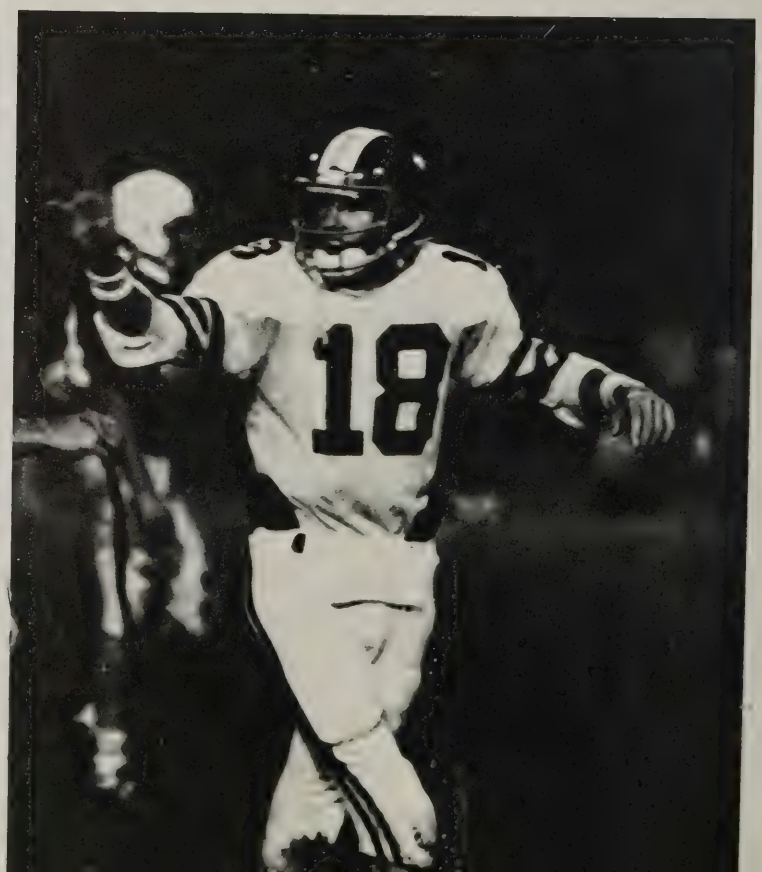
Trojans Complete Third Winning Season.

Hey boys, the play is over.

A rowdy defense attacks.



Hey Jack Wright, you better wait for me!



Quarterback Weegie Thompson gets the plays.

The Midlothian Trojans entered the AAA Division seven years ago, but they weren't successful until 1975. In 1977 the Trojans had continued success with their third consecutive winning season.

The 1977 season did, however, have a slow start. After losing to J.R. Tucker and Thomas Dale, the Trojans were ready for a victory. The following week in a close game, the Trojans defeated Matoaca 7-6 on a completely drenched field. Hopewell fell hard the next week, 27-0. The Trojans then traveled to Colonial Heights and once again were victorious. The Trojans put down the Monarchs at Meadowbrook. The team had now "gotten it together." With four consecutive victories, the Trojans believed they were ready for the Wave. After a week of diligent preparation, the Trojans felt good about facing the undefeated Petersburg team. The Trojans didn't win, but this loss didn't stop the powerful Trojan team. They made a quick comeback to defeat the Lancers of Manchester for Homecoming. The team then polished off their season with victories over Prince George and Dinwiddie, 35-0 and 28-0, respectively.

The team's overall record of 7-3 was impressive. The Trojans finished second in the Central District and sixth in the region. The players, coaches, and managers were pleased with the 1977 Varsity Football team. With determination and hard work, as shown by this past year's players, the Trojans can be equally successful next season.

At Homecoming, it's "Uh ungahwa Trojans got the power!"

The Trojan team displays action on the field.

TOUCHDOWN Trojans!

Quarterback Weegie Thompson was selected for the All-District team. Linebacker Kevin Sharp was named on the All-Metro team.

Neither of these individuals could have made these accomplishments without their fellow team members. Football is a team sport. The Trojans surely showed a great team effort this past season. Everyone worked together to get the real winning combination.

The Trojan team concentrates on the second half.

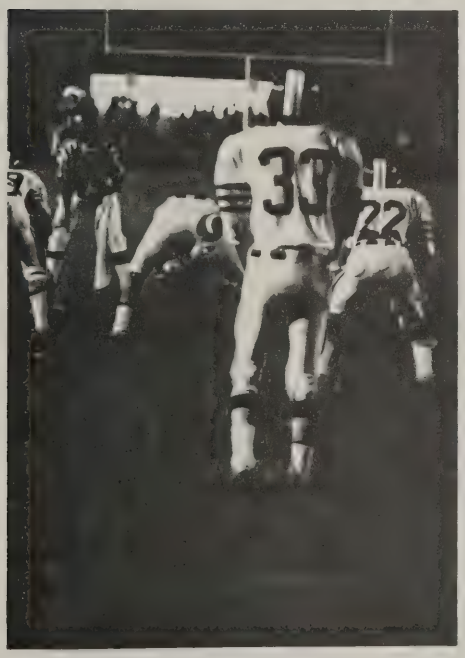
Trojan Spirit Shows

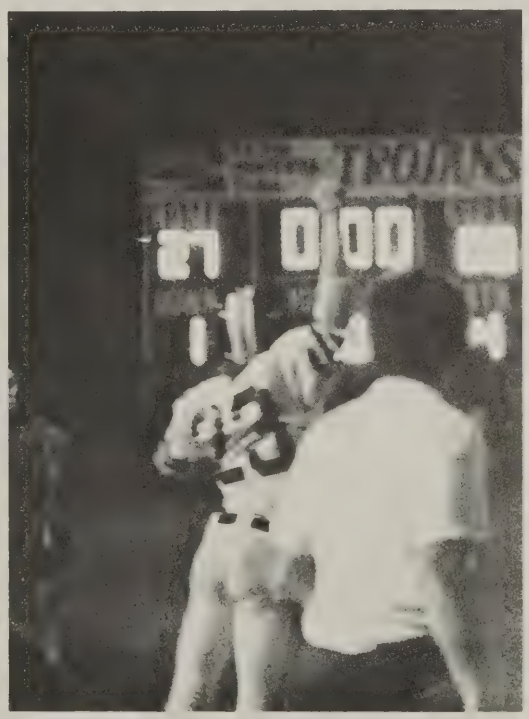
Soggy Coaches watch and pray for victory.

Scott Wauters gains more yardage.

They say the good guys always head for the action.



Coulter James attempts a field goal.



How sweet it is . . . A TROJAN VICTORY!

Spirit and support is the key to a successful season. The Trojan team had both. Despite pouring rain, lightening, and thunder, the cheerleaders and loyal fans cheered to the end of the Mataoca game, which was the Trojan's first win of the season. Trojans had many fans attend away games. Surprisingly enough, at the Dinwiddie game there were just as many, if not more, Trojan fans on hand to see the game than General fans.

The Trojans shared many experiences on and off the field. On the field they shared the joys of winning and the pains of losing. Off the field they joined together in fads like wearing cowboy hats and watching "The Three Stooges". Team spirit and friendship continued throughout the season.

Hustle-Fight-Win is the cry at the end of halftime.

1977 proved to be another successful season for the Hockey team. Their impressive season record of 5 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie held bigger opportunities for them. They captured the district title, as in previous years, and then went on to represent the district in the regional play-offs. Once again they were victorious. 1977 was the first year for a high school state championship. Although the girls did not win, they showed good sportsmanship and much enthusiasm. The returning girls believe next year will be another great season.

Cross Country Goes Far

The Midlothian cross country team had another fantastic season with the varsity finishing 6-0 and the J.V. finishing 4-0.

The team achieved their season of success with the aid of two four year lettermen Paul Webb and Norm Guenther, along with the aid of the other superb seniors and many promising juniors and sophomores.

For Coach Wilkins, this, his first year of coaching cross country, proved to be very encouraging.

Coach Wilkins wonders if those guys will ever come back.

David Sage stretches for the finish.

Miles Whitten and Chris Young enjoy the rest as much as the run.

Ken Holder wonders what the girls are thinking now.

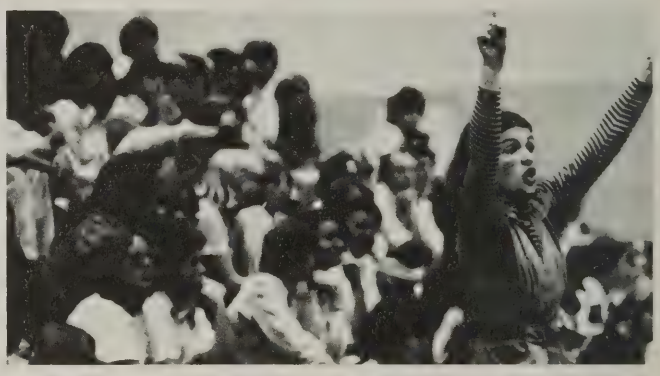
A Strong Fight to the End

Jessica and Jane are ready for the ball.

The ladies in white will get you!

The Lady Trojans call for a time out.

It looks like Marge Merrell had a rough night.



Coach Gates makes the calls.

The job, this year, for the Girl's Varsity Basketball Team was a tough one. They ended their season with a 6-10 record. But the never-ending spirit and sportsmanship displayed by every one of the girls is something that will far outlast their season record.

The Lady Trojans showed determination in all of their games and the games that they lost were done so, many times, by four points or less.

High scorer for the team was Sheila York who averaged 15 points a game. Her success could not have been achieved without the efforts of all of the other girls.

Midlothian was pleased to welcome Mrs. Gates for her first season with the Lady Trojans. Her devotion to the team during the season did not go unnoticed by the girls.

Although the season did not prove to be really good recordwise, the girls learned the meaning of losing and appreciated winning all the more.

Mary Gallini calls for help.

New Addition Proves Good

There is a saying that the first is usually the best. This was certainly the case with Midlothian's first junior varsity girls' basketball team.

Coach Garrett and his girls worked hard together to achieve an excellent season record of 11-1. The girls then went on to place first in the district with such players as Rachal Jordan, the leading rebounder and scorer. Rachal was also seen playing on the varsity team during the tournament season. Other outstanding players were Susan Belsha, another rebounder and Jenny Nierle, the teams' second highest scorer. If space allowed, extensive credit would be given to every single girl because the job that they did this season was nothing less than superb. The skill and determination displayed on the court by all of the girls is something that we can all be proud of.

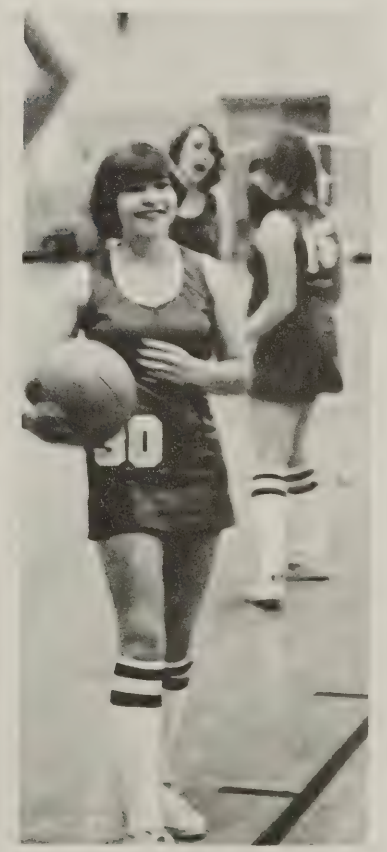
Getting that ball through the hoop is the way to win!

Cheryl Taylor prays for two.



Claudia Chazo is proud of the J.V. team.

Varsity Shoots for the TOP

With no starters returning from last season's district champions, the Trojans set a reasonable goal of a five-hundred season for this year's team. At the halfway point the team is 4-4 for the district and 6-5 over all. The starting center, Dan Schmitt, has shown himself to be deserving of the recognition he has been receiving, and much is expected from him for the second half of the season. Other promising players are Tom Pedlow, the main ball handler, Jerry Middleton, David Estridge, and Paul Frank, whose rebounds add to the Trojan power.

Varsity Basketball Achieves Its Goal

In November when the goal was set at five hundred for the season, everyone had hopes of attaining that goal, and they did just that. The season ended with an overall record of 11-11. In the Central District Tournament, the Trojans displayed their skill by beating Hopewell for the semi-final title of the tournament.

Anyone who had come to watch the Trojans play saw much improvement in every one of the players. The development of team playing and shooting gave the Trojans the edge that they needed to beat many of the tough teams that they were up against this season.

The entire Trojan season was one of winning and losing, of playing and never giving up.

J.V. Basketball—Excellent!!

Steve Baum is ready to attack.

And excellent is just what the J.V. Basketball team was! They finished their season with a 17-1 overall record and went on to tie with Thomas Dale for the J.V. District Championship. The JV Trojans proved every game they had to be exciting and well-played, and their determination to excel against all of their opponents was seen every time they stepped onto the court. This success was not come by easily. The only way it happened was with work, and work they did. Practices were tough, and all of the players gave all they had whenever called to do so. The combined efforts of all of the players along with the fine coaching of Coach Olsen made this season one of pride and joy for all concerned.

Trojan Wrestlers Pin Those Men

The 77-78 wrestling team proved to be a hardworking one. They improved in many areas, finishing fourth in the district and eleventh in the region. The overall record also improved to a 5-7 season. Individual places in the district meet were held by Jack Wright and Steve Nesbitt; both placed second. Ed McQuarrie and Steve Nesbitt were fifth in the regional meet this year. With many wrestlers returning next year, the wrestling team hopes to boost their record once again.

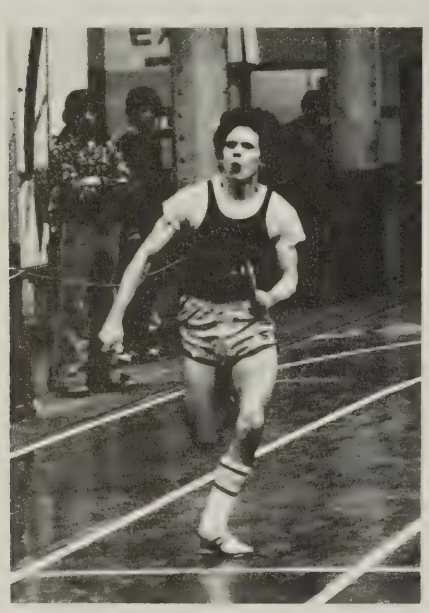
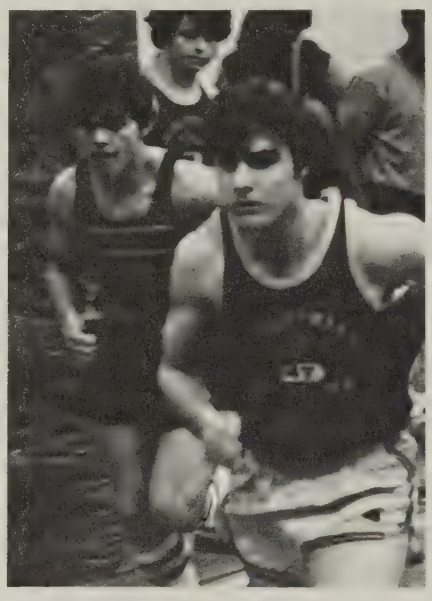
Winter Track Braves The Cold

Despite the small number of people that came out for winter track, the team did quite well. The bad weather forced the team to do much of its running indoors. Even with these hindrances, the team had a fairly good season, and many of the members went on to regionals. Then a few qualified for the state meet. The team hopes that this hard work during the winter months will be very helpful in assuring a successful spring season.

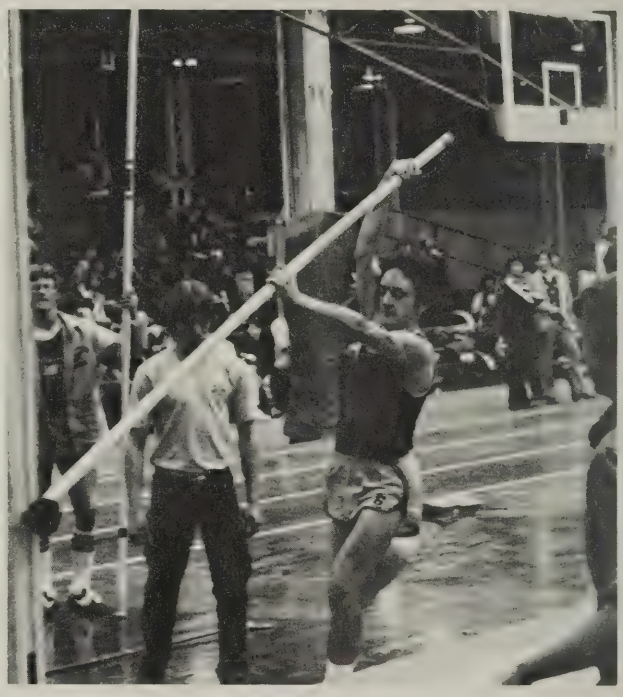


Steve Westbury strives for the finish.



Determined Philip Stagg begins his race.

Coach Coffman prepares for another meet.



Joe Kelly is up to vault.

Steve Kellam outruns his opponent in the relay.

Girl Gymnasts Display Talent

Robin Stanley gets an aerial view of things.

Overall, the gymnastics team placed first in the district, second in the region, and sixth in the state. Individual performances for the district included Joyce McDonnell, first all-around, Cathy Dechiara, second all-around, and Mary Farr, third all-around and third in vaulting. Outstanding regional places were held by Cathy Dechiara and Joyce McDonnell. Although the team received a very minimal amount of support, the girls did extremely well. With a team as good as Midlothian's, we hope more spectators will attend the meets next year.

Cathy Dechiara displays perfection.

Joyce McDonnell prepares for landing.

Mary Farr shows perfect balance.

Golfers Get Into the Swing

Excellent golf at Midlothian has always been a tradition, and this year was no exception. The boys on this year's team worked hard on improving every stroke, and all had hopes of achieving a high standing in regional and state meets. Dinwiddie stood to be their toughest competitor, but the golf team always excelled!

Kent Erdahl shows good form.

David Burns thinks biting his tongue will help his drive.

Tim Lyons watches the ball.

Bill Edwards makes his putting count.

Trojan Track . . . Terrific

Scott Meyers now worries about coming down.

Donnie Epley, you should have waited for Philip.

Cory, Scott, and Dean are a closeknit threesome.

The Trojan boys started their outdoor season on the wrong foot with a disappointing loss to Petersburg. However, they made a terrific comeback with an impressive win over Hopewell. They also won their next two meets. The boys hope to gain the district title once again and do well in regionals as well as at state.

Track Boys Keep On Runnin'

Roger Alford just squeeks over the bar.

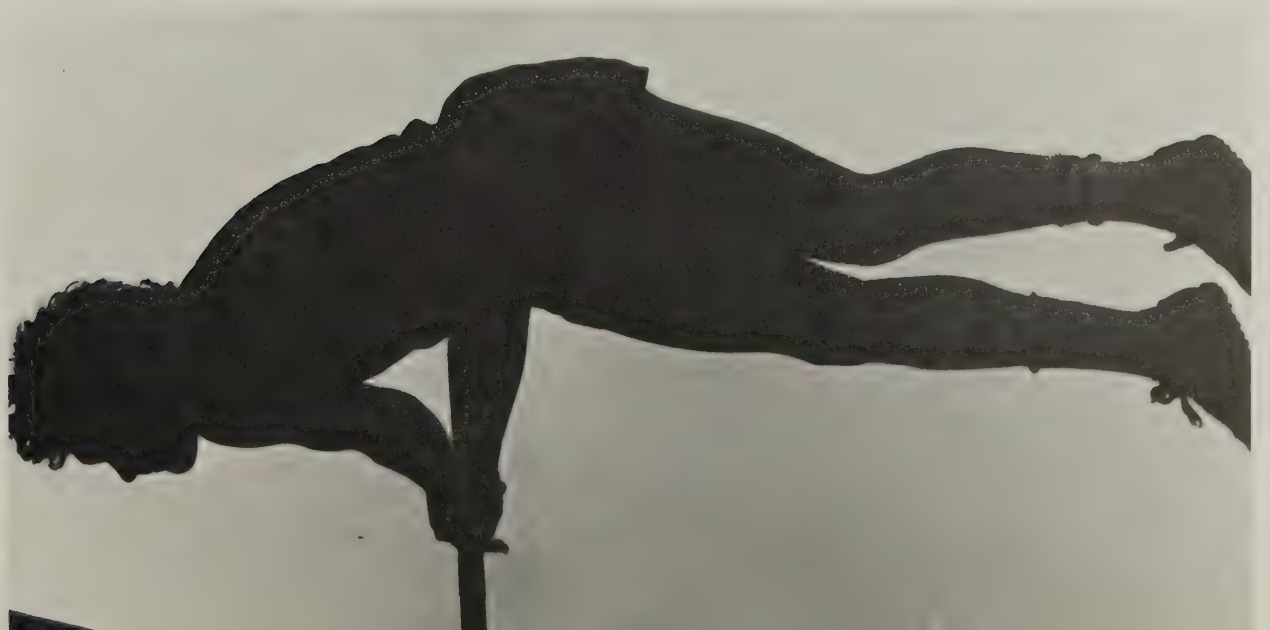
The second half of the season proved to have a few disappointments. Thomas Dale upset the Trojans by a very slim margin. However, the boys went on to win the remaining dual meets. They concluded their season with a 5-2 record. The Trojans put in a lot of practice for the district meet. The boys fought hard and set some new records, but they fell short of a victory. They placed second to Petersburg by only six points. This year the boys placed third at Manchester Relays.

What are you doing Alan Moore?

Coach Lester daydreams during the meet.

Eric Holder prays he makes it to the pit.

"It's all in a day's work," says Scott Meyer.



Lady Trojans Do It Again

Yes, the Lady Trojans did do it once again! On May 6, Midlo's girls captured the Central District Title. The girls' team had quite a successful season. They were undefeated in their dual meets and ended with a perfect 5-0 record. As always, Thomas Dale was a tough competitor, but the girls were able to hold them off. The Lady Lancer Relays were held for the first time this year. Midlothian did well in placing second. With many gisls returning and some experience behind them, the girls should have another good season next year.

Alisa Pridgen gets ready to throw.

A Midlothian clean sweep!

Mary Beth Falls, Lynn Guenther, and Kathy Lorimer relax before the race.

What are you sitting on, Gwen Scott?

Coach Collier measures another throw.

"What's the problem?" asks Darnetta Byrd.

Jan Jackson defeats her opponent.

Mary Beth Falls wins the 880 as usual.

Jane Bennett heaves the discus.

Danna Scott can't bear to open her eyes.

Michelle Murray leaps over those hurdles.

Jan Jackson hands off to Karen Heine.

1st row: Tri-captains Gwen Scott, Mary Beth Falls, and Barbara Watkins. 2nd row: Sonya Talley, mgr; Linda Latham, Jan Jackson, Alisa Pridgen, Kim Sorensen, Christi Gresham, Karen Heine, Michelle Murray, Ruth Frye, Jane Bennett. 3rd row: Coach Collier, Laura Perry, Tracy Trimmer, Danna Scott, Kathy Lorimer, Sarah Showalter, Lynne Gilley, Darnetta Byrd, Debra Austin, Terri Scruggs, Lynn Guenther, Caroline Wilkes, Gwen Byrd, mgr; Head Coach Wilkins.

Baseball Bats Em In

Pitch it, Pedlow!

Neil Shingleton slides to the base.

"If I could only reach that base!"

Mitch Lester's up to bat.

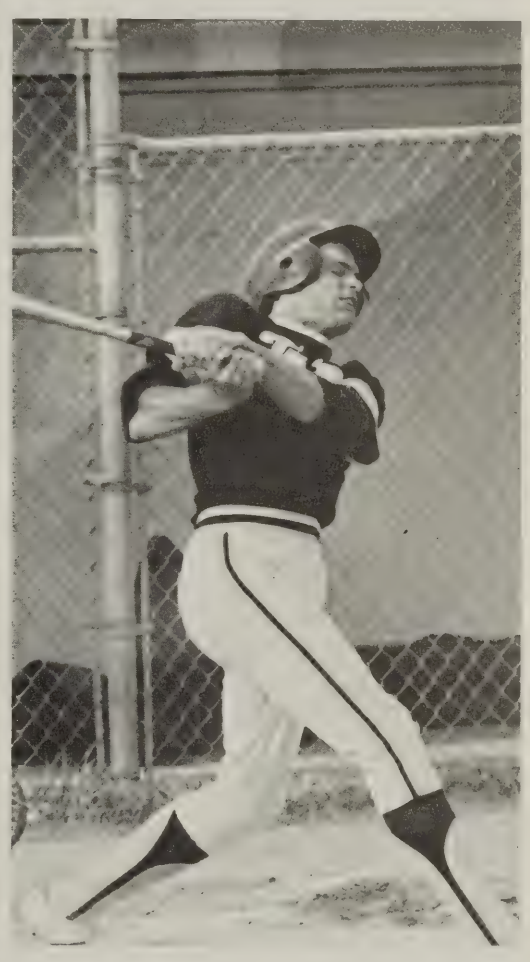
Chip Norford makes it to third.

Jim Short sends it home.

The 1978 baseball team had a tough season. With only a few games remaining, the boys are hoping to make it to the play-offs. The boys were strong in pitching with Tom Pedlow and Coulter James leading them. They also possessed a strong defense. For the first year, tri-captains were elected and their leadership was terrific.



Strike one, Mike Cannaday!

Go Doug Copeland!

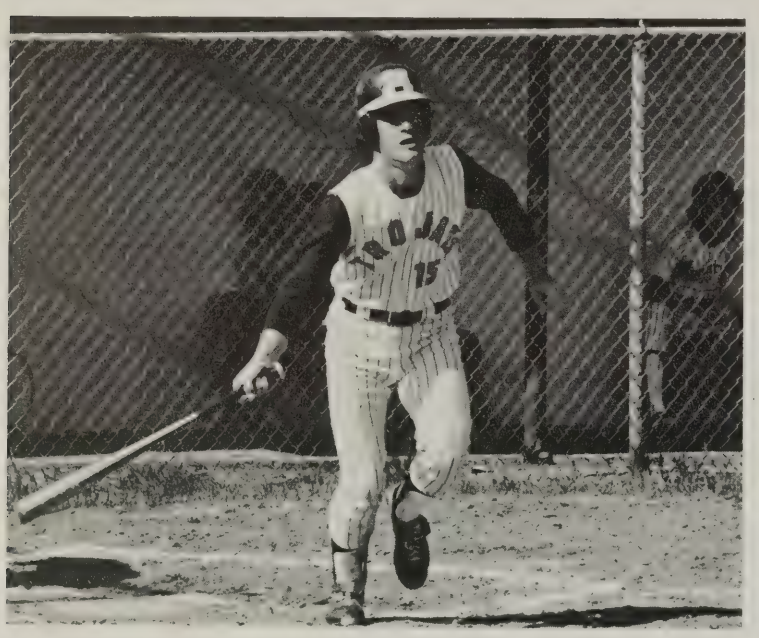
Baseball gets to guys like Tom Pedlow!

You're SAFE!

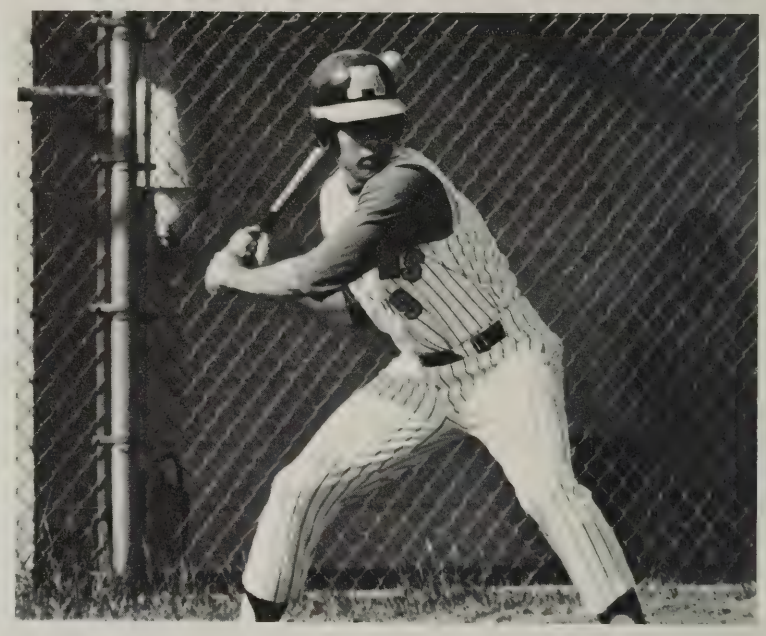
J.V. Baseball Strikes 'Em Out

The Junior Varsity Baseball Team did a good job in the central district this year. There were quite a few freshmen on the team. Hopefully, they will be back next year to continue the success of the J.V. team.

Ron Rouse lets the ball loose.



David Pittman heads for first base.



Mike Copeland's up to bat.

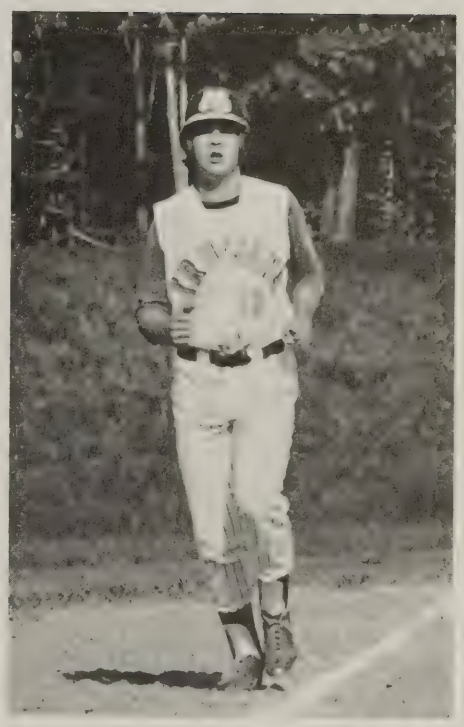
Ron Rouse begins his wind up.

Ken Lemelin gives the signal.



Mike Copeland runs it in.

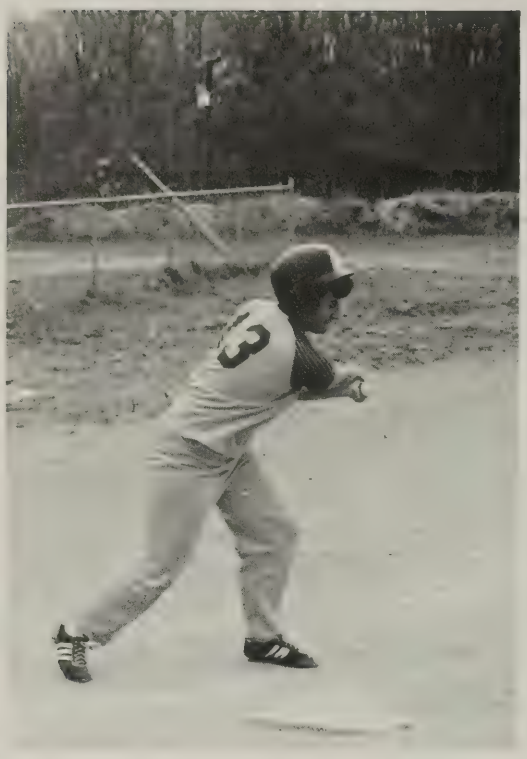
Jeff Jackson hits a homer!

Perfect pitching form is shown by Ron Rouse.

Softball Puts Up A Fight

This year's girls' softball team showed tremendous effort in every game they played. Although the season record stands at 6-5 for the season, so far, many of the games have been hampered by bad weather. The team has many young players, and the strength of next year's team is undeniable.

Cindy Lipscomb can run as well as pitch.



Jessica Nierle puts might into her swing.

Shelly Pereira shows her skill as a catcher.

Tracey Eagle shows determination.

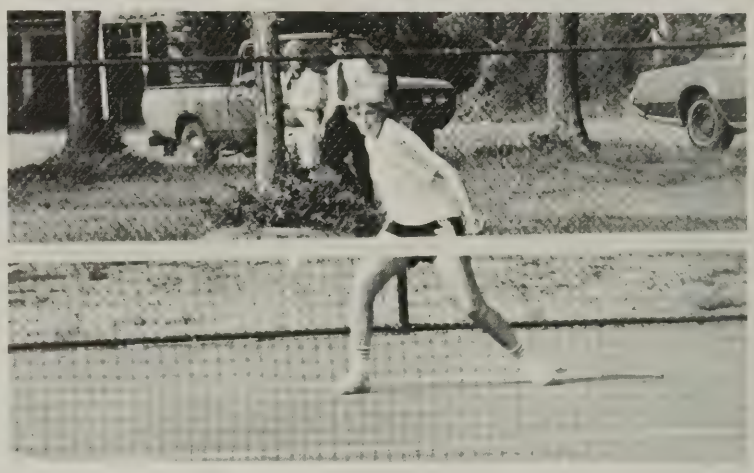
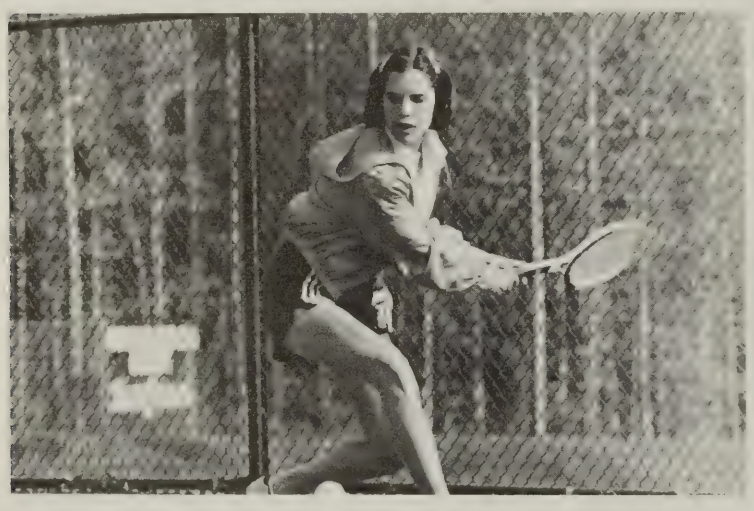
Girl's Tennis Team LOVES to Win

Coach Gates observes carefully.



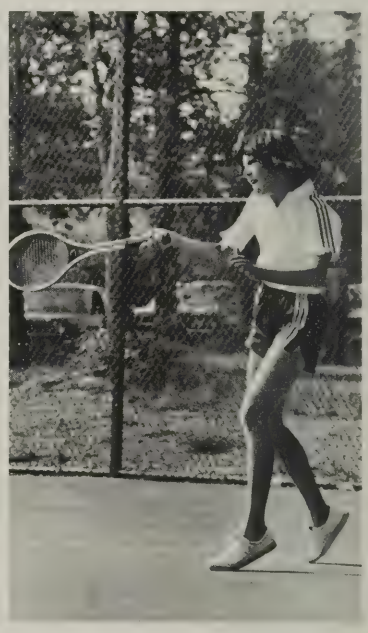
Susan Foster keeps her eyes on the ball.

The girls' tennis team is following in Midlow's tennis tradition by going through an undefeated season. They had many tough matches, but they won them all.



Jenny Sawyer is graceful on the court.

Tracy Doyle adds a unique choice.



Allison Powell wants those points.

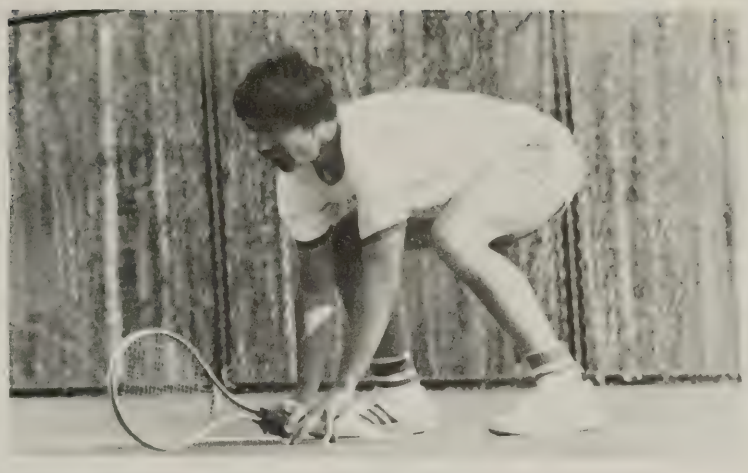
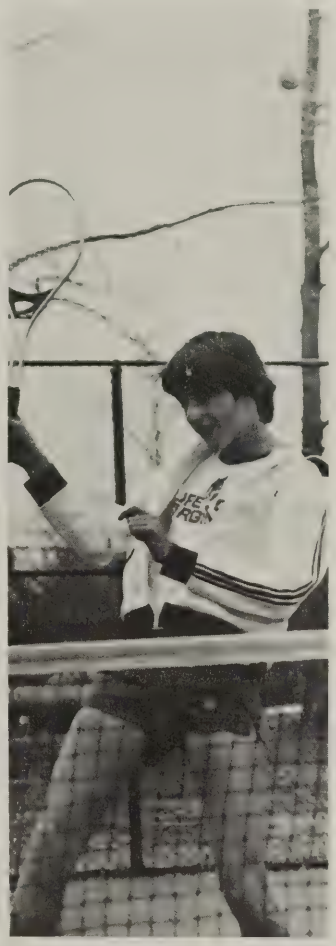
Boy's Tennis Dominates

The boys' tennis team has returned and given Midlothian just what everyone wants, a winning season! The record, so far, for this season is 16-0 including 12 shut-outs. One of the wins was over St. Christophers, who were last year's national champions. Having won state last year, this year's team has the same aspiration for this year. Everyone at Midlo has great pride in the boys' tennis team.



Steve Wilson always gets the jump on his opponent.

Rob Pinkham doesn't even touch the ground.



Can Hal Greer play with his eyes closed?

Varsity Spirit Never Dies

The Varisty Cheerleaders displayed true spirit and sportsmanship throughout the entire season. They won first place at camp, and worked hard all season. This surely paid off because their spirit never died!

The "Cone-Heads" perform at a pep rally.

Jan Pond shows enthusiasm.

Joan Stinnette clowns around.

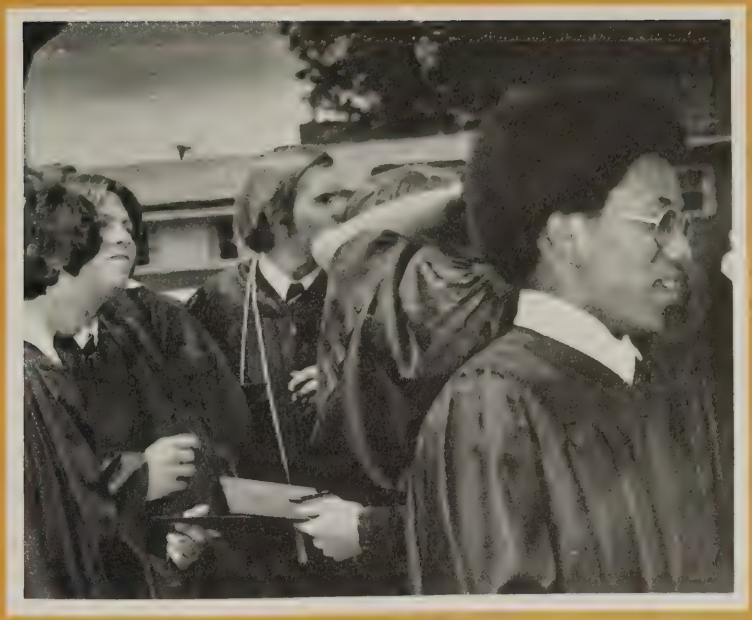
THE ROAD'S END

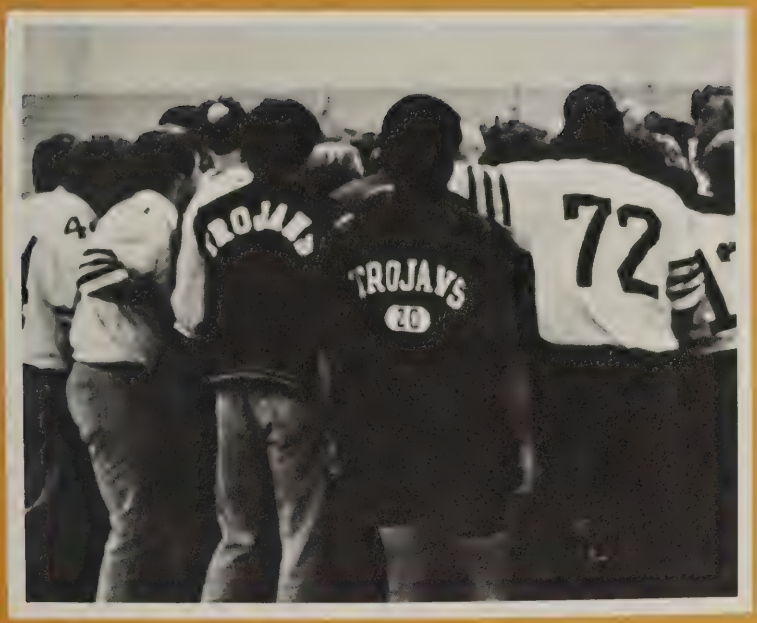
Long and Windng Road .....

I've seen that Road before ...

Lead me to your door .....

The Road soon to be taken . . .

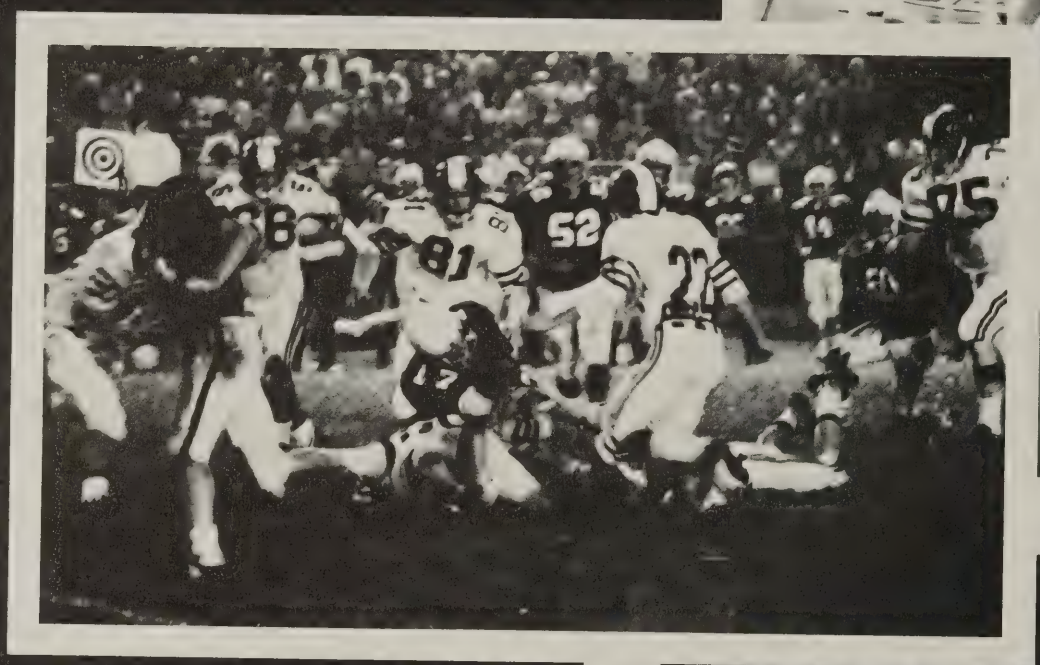


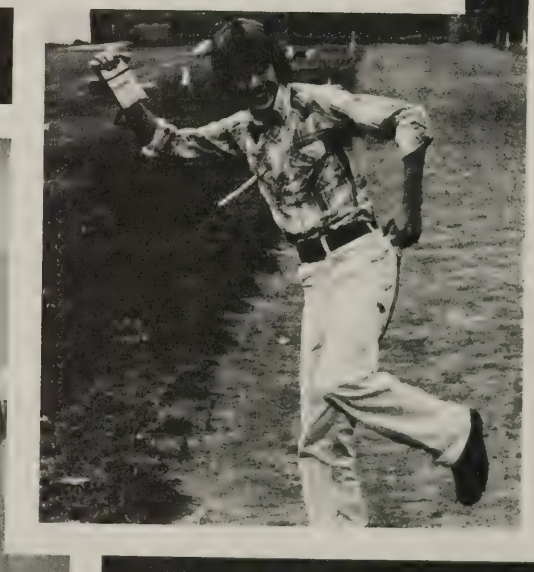


The Road once taken . . . . . .

Roads that will never disappear . . .

Long and Winding Road





The roads taken through Midlothian High School will be in our memories forever. Whether we participated in sports, clubs, or just concentrated on our studies, these experiences will be remembered. The twists and curves of the long and winding road were tolerated and accepted as part of our high school life. Exams, homework, and tardies may be easily forgotten, but no one will forget the friends and the good times.

Celebrate

Seasons change, they rearrange
So why can't you and I—say why
Thoughts we find, are so unkind
We often have to cry—but why

Nature's way for her to say in perfect harmony
Believe, find your place, your past erased
For life's new destiny
With peace, the dawn will bring,
New light to sing and shine its warmth on you
It's true you'll feel the glow and start to grow
Into a brand new you.

Celebrate, change your thoughts to love
Celebrate, what you're thinking of
Time ain't long, soon we'll moving on,
Moving on . . . . . .

Editor's Notes

When deadlines started approaching and the pressure started mounting, I soon realized that being editor is a very hard job. But as the year progressed and the pages were turned in, things began to fall into place. Now that graduation is just around the corner, I sincerely believe that this year and the 1978 Trojan have given me something that can never be replaced. Hopefully, you will enjoy the Trojan and will remember 1978 always.

Pam Vines
Editor

Acknowledgements

There are many people to be thanked for their time and effort in making the 1978 Trojan a success.

The entire staff has continued with their hard work all year long despite seemingly unreachable goals. All of the staff together has made the 1978 Trojan a reality. Many long hours were spent adding new ideas to the book.

Mrs. Miles, a new sponsor, kept our spirits up with invaluable advice and attention. She learned many new things this year, especially page-checking and dungeon-cleaning.

Our photographers were truly the backbone of the staff. All four of them have devoted much of their free time to taking pictures. Even when we were drastically behind, they were always there.

Charlie Whitley, a representative from Herff Jones, helped the staff with expert advice. He also became adept at chasing moles out of the dungeon.

Jess Pinell of Delmar Studios provided film along with expert shots of sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

To Mr. Poates, we express our gratitude for his constant support.

The teachers of Midlothian High School have given the yearbook much help by allowing us out of classes so many times and being understanding about deadlines.

The patrons and advertisers have helped make this yearbook a possibility through their monetary support.

Most of all, the student body should be commended for their fine job of making Midlothian a great school. This has helped make the 1978 Trojan that much better.

Pam Vines is trying to concentrate on the yearbook index almost as much as she is concentrating on her blow pop. Mrs. Miles still has time to "communicate" with her students despite her many yearbook responsibilities.
